Secretary Wallace Bares
Plans to Smash Armour-
Morris Merger

SERVES COMPLAINT AGAINST PACKERS

Cabinet Officer Declares
Buyers Could Control
Stock Markets

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace today took drastic steps to prevent the consummation of the merger of the big packing interests of Armour and company and Morris and company. Acting under the packer control law, the secretary served a formal complaint against the two packing interests, alleging that the combination would be in violation of this law.

Information received by the department of agriculture, Wallace stated, is that a tentative agreement for the merger already had been received. The two packing companies will be given an opportunity to present their case in appearing before the secretary of agriculture April 22.

If, on the basis of evidence then submitted, the secretary is of the opinion that the combination is in violation of packer control law, an order to "cease and desist" from its consummation will be entered.

From such a decision the packers would have to carry the case to the federal circuit court of appeals in Chicago and then the case may be taken to the supreme court of the United States. Expedition of the legal proceedings is provided for by the law.

Fears Less Competition

The main basis of Secretary Wallace's complaint against the proposed combine is that it would lessen competition, particularly in the buying of livestock, and this would injure the American farmer, whose rights the control law protects.

Wallace reveals that early in December he told J. Ogden Armour and S. Edson White, now president of Armour and company, that the federal government would be impelled to act against the merger if plans for its consummation were continued. At that time Wallace urged that the merger be dropped. Despite this, information received by the department, showed that plans for the combine were being continued and recently Armour and company by long distance telephone, admitted that a tentative agreement for the merger had been reached.

Secretary Wallace declares there is a vital principle involved which cannot be ignored. It will eliminate one of the five largest packers in the United States and in my opinion, it may result in materially lessening competition among the buyers of livestock at the various markets.

"The livestock market is very sensitive. By the simple act of refraining from sending their buyers into the yards promptly on time, on any of the heavy morning runs, either of the large packers can very materially depress the market. Any act, therefore, which will materially increase the buying percentage of either of the large packers, puts in his power to substantially lessen competition and depress prices. Producers of livestock need all the competition that now exists."

DIED AT DENVER

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 26.—Mrs. Virginia Bland, widow of Richard (Silver Dick) Bland, former Missouri congressman and originator of the free silver movement, died here after a short illness. A son, E. C. Bland, is judge of the court of appeals, Kansas City, Mo.

MAN FOUND DEAD

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 26.—M. J. Luddington, 75 years old, of Estorville, Ia., was found dead in a rooming house here by his landlady. Physicians said he apparently died of hemorrhages.

Predict Passage of Compromise Bill To Aid U. S. Farmers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The composite rural credit bill was favorably reported to the house today by the banking and currency committee. Under present plans it will be voted on tomorrow. It is expected to pass by a large majority.

As finally agreed upon, the measure sets up two systems to provide farm credits. One is a chain of private corporations to lend money to large livestock producers as provided in the original Capper bill. The other is an intermediate credits system under the farm loan system as provided in the Lenroot-Anderson bill making the farm loan system permanent and liberalizing its functions, as embodied in the new measure.

FRENCH HIT ALLIED PLAN TO MEDIATE

Invaders Announce "Hands Off" Policy to World as
New German Advance Be-

PARIS, Feb. 26.—The French said today "hands off the Ruhr" to all nations considering mediation and proceeded to acquisition of other territory and a lively "strafing" to mutinous German towns.

A semi-official announcement said France would not accept intervention, whether by Britain, Holland or the United States.

Pushing forward of a considerable area east of Rhine, French troops today closed gaps provided by the Versailles treaty, and in doing so almost completely cut off the British in their little sector at Cologne. French troops now hold wide strips of territory on both sides of the British.

Montauban, in territory that was once allotted to America for occupation but never taken, was seized by the French today.

TOT. 6. VICTIM OF KIDNAPER. MURDERER

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—Five hundred police and detectives and hundreds of civilians today are scouring the northeast section of Philadelphia for Lillian Gilmore, six, who was kidnapped and is believed to have been murdered last Saturday.

The child, with her sister Dorothy, was lured into an automobile while playing in front of her home, and police have sought in vain for a clue that would lead to her whereabouts or the discovery of her body.

Dorothy, who was found and returned home after the abduction, told police that the kidnaper had sister and that later she saw the man murder Lillian and throw her body on the ice.

Willie F. Morgan is under arrest in connection with the kidnapping. Police grilled the suspect for many hours. He denied the kidnapping and gave an alibi, in which the police do not place much credence. Blood spots were found on Morgan's clothing, according to the police.

Morgan, according to police, replied to almost every question asked "I don't remember anything; I was drinking liquor."

Three other children who were playing in front of the Gilmore home when the kidnapping took place have identified Morgan as the man who invited the two little girls to go for a ride, police said today.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Suite to test the constitutionality of the California and Washington laws prohibiting aliens from owning lands within the state were set for argument for April 10 by the supreme court today. The laws were directed at Japanese.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 26.—Petroleum Midway's Ryder No. 1 well, which was brought in last November, broke loose last night, and at 11 a. m. today was flowing at an estimated rate in excess of 20,000 barrels daily. The oil is of high gravity, ranging from 28 to 29.2 Baume.

5 HELD AFTER PARTY AT BEACH SOLONS MAY MAKE TRIP TO PORT

Congressional Party Will Inspect Harbor If Plans of Swing Materialize

Twenty members of congress may be shown Newport harbor within the next month.

Congressman Phil D. Swing, of El Centro, is to pilot a party of congressmen and senators and their wives on a trip through Imperial and San Diego counties, for the purpose of inspecting them in the Colorado river project.

This party will pass through Santa Ana on its way from San Diego to Los Angeles.

According to a letter received today from Swing, it may be possible to have the party stop at Santa Ana for part of a day or for a day and a night.

"I would like to show this party Orange county and the harbor at Newport," said Swing in the letter.

J. C. Metzger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, will exchange telegrams with Swing during the next day or two, relative to the proposed visit.

PROBES CRASH DEATH AS MAN IN CUSTODY

While Coroner C. D. Brown was preparing to hold an inquest at Huntington Beach at 2 p. m. today over the body of Ollie Miller, 23, 802 East Fourth street, who was killed about 7 p. m. yesterday on the Huntington Beach boulevard when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into a heavy truck, District Attorney A. P. Nelson was considering placing manslaughter charges against L. L. Meeks, 112 South Sycamore street, asserted driver of the death car, who was arrested by City Marshall Jack Tinsley of Huntington Beach.

Meeks was intoxicated when the accident occurred, Tinsley said. The two men were returning to Santa Ana from Huntington Beach, according to Tinsley, and were near the Wintersburg schoolhouse when the car crashed into the rear of the truck. Miller was removed to the emergency hospital at the beach city, but he was dead when he arrived there.

The dead man was unmarried, and had no relatives in Southern California, Brown said. He and Ben Talbey were engaged in the gravel hauling business here. His relatives live in Oklahoma, and the coronor was attempting to communicate with them. Funeral arrangements were pending word from them.

Meanwhile, Meeks was being held in the city jail at Huntington Beach.

PILOT AT AUTO WHEEL DIES SUDDENLY

Joseph Clark, believed to be a resident of San Diego, today wrote a letter to Daisy Clark, 3518 Sierra avenue, San Diego, telling her that he was in good health, hoped that she was likewise, and that he would see her next Saturday, "if nothing happens."

A few hours later something did happen. He died suddenly, apparently of heart trouble.

Bystanders who saw the car run aimlessly up a curb in the 1800 block on West Third street rushed up to him and found his lifeless form huddled over the steering wheel.

Police, who were notified, found the letter in his pocket. He had enclosed a $10 bill to Daisy Clark.

A Hod Carriers' union card was the only other article that served to identify him.

Artist Declares Kyne Wrong; Visions Shakespeare In Films

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26.—"Peter B. Kyne is wrong when he attacks the movies for not being artistic. If Shakespeare were alive today he would be working for one of the big producers."

This was the reply today to Peter B. Kyne of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, a painter of considerable note, now in the movie game.

"All the big artists, literary or otherwise, are beginning to see that motion pictures are the greatest form of artistic expression ever invented. If Michael Angelo or Rodin were in their prime they would be movie directors as they had a great eye for form and design in spectacular effects."

Under these circumstances Earle thinks Kyne has his nerve for attacking the powers that be in the movie industry.

BRITISH NAVY ORDERS SHIPS FROM SMYRNA

Move Seen as Plan to Aid Turkish Dictator in Averting Split With Assembly.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—British warships were ordered today to withdraw from Smyrna harbor.

The admiralty here accompanied the order with the explanation that Britain hoped thus to ease the situation at Angora, where Turk militarists are clamoring for war. It is stated that the British "wish to help Mustapha Kemal overcome the extremists."

The new British move is not interpreted as submission to the ultimatum that allied warships of more than 1,000 tons leave the harbor.

The angora assembly is debating the Lausanne treaty, having heard Ismet Pasha's report regarding the peace conference. Extremists who favor rejection, are said to have the upper hand. Mustapha Kemal is believed to be inclined to reconciliation but he no longer has his former power.

ONE BIG BIBLE SCHOOL, PLAN OF PASTORS

Under plans discussed at a meeting of the Santa Ana Ministerial union held at noon today at James' cafe here, churches of the city will unite in an effort to develop one big community vacation Bible school this summer instead of several.

The Rev. Messrs. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church; Moffet Rhodes, of the Spurgeon Memorial church, and Perry F. Schrock, of the First Congregational church, were appointed a committee to work out the details of the school.

It was decided to hold union services the first evening of Holy Week, the last week before Easter, with each church holding services on Friday evening. The Rev. Messrs. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church; Otto S. Russell, of the First Baptist church, and W. E. Roberts, of the First Presbyterian church, will arrange the program for the union meetings, designating the speakers and the church at which the services will be held each evening.

At the request of the county Christian Endeavor society, the union assumed the obligation of arranging for sunrise services Easter morning, and to the Rev. Mr. Porter was delegated responsibility for preparing the program.

The Orange County Clerical club will meet tomorrow noon at James' cafe. It is understood an excellent program has been arranged.

DIES SUDDENLY.

ATLANTIC, Ia., Feb. 24.—Henry Ackles, an employee of the city of Atlantic for many years and a native of Henry county, Iowa, where he was born 55 years ago, died suddenly here. He was on the way to catch an early morning train to consult a specialist in Des Moines.

Isadora Facing Loss Of Citizenship From Attacks On U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Secretary of Labor Davis is taking action to have the American citizenship of Isadora Duncan, widely known dancer, annulled, in view of her alleged disparaging comments on America and the American people.

Davis said today that he has asked the solicitor of his department to get an opinion from the attorney general as to the possibility of taking away her American citizenship rights.

"Miss Duncan has renounced America in some of her recent utterances," Davis said.

MOTHER AND TOT PERISH IN FLAMES

Frantic Woman Drops Two Children from Window Then Jumps to Escape Blaze.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Two persons, a mother and her 11-months' old child were killed and four others were injured when fire of undetermined origin swept through an apartment house early today.

Mrs. John Healy, the woman killed, found herself with her husband and two twin babies cut off from escape by smoke filled hallways. As the flames burst into her room she ran frantically to the window, dropped the babies to the sidewalk and leaped after them. The husband also jumped.

Mrs. Healy and one child, Marion, died a few minutes later in the hospital. Healy and the other infant, Anna, are reported dying.

Two other injured are Albert Sauppes, a neighbor, who aided in the rescue work, and Arthur Corey, a fireman.

DEATH CLAIMS FORMER GOV. OF CALIF.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 26.—George C. Perkins, former United States senator and former governor of California, died at his home here today, aged 84.

Perkins was one of the leaders in Pacific coast commercial circles for many years. He was a member of the firm of Goodall, Perkins and company, operating the line of steamships which now is the Admiral line.

Perkins' firm was the first to introduce steam whaling vessels into the Arctic whaling trade.

He came to California from his birthplace in Maine in 1855 as a sailor before the mast. On reaching California he gave up the sea and located at Oroville, Calif., where, in 1864 he married Ruth A. Parker of Marysville, Calif.

Later he came to San Francisco and was successful in mercantile and banking enterprises as well as in the shipping business.

From 1868 until 1876 he was a member of the state senate of California and served as governor from 1877 to 1883.

In 1893 he was named United States senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Leland Stanford. He served in the senate until 1915. Politically he was a Republican.

All of the old-timers in Orange county politics were well acquainted with George C. Perkins. Perkins and James McFadden, who died a few years ago, were close personal, business and political friends. During his political career, Perkins was often in this county.

TWO DEAD, 13 HURT IN RAIL DISASTER

(By United Press Leased Wire)
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 26.—Two were killed and thirteen injured when the second section of the northbound Dixie Flyer, Jacksonville to Chicago, was derailed one and one-half miles south of Calhoun, Ga., late today, according to reports at the office of the superintendent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway here.

The dead, C. C. Doaks, fireman, and an unidentified passenger. All of those injured were passengers.

SENATORS TO BLOCK ACTION

Canvass Shows Harding
Proposal Facing Bitter Opposition

FIGHT TO COME UP IN NEXT SESSION

President Plans to Keep
"Association of Nations"
Pledge

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Canvass of the senate foreign relations committee and administration leaders today showed opposition to President Harding's proposal that America join the league of nations world court, is so strong there is virtually no chance of its being approved this session.

Most of the Democratic senators oppose the plan because they believe the United States should get into the league "with both feet or stay out."

Many Republicans are against it because they feel it is a departure from the policy of avoiding entanglement in European affairs.

Senator King of Utah, Democrat, today introduced a resolution of ratification of the world court protocol. It contained the four reservations submitted by Secretary of State Hughes.

HARDING PLANS TO KEEP CAMPAIGN PLEDGE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—The Harding administration fully realizes it is under a definite pledge to create an "association of nations" to take the place for the United States of the league of nations and an effort will be made to accomplish such a step toward world peace.

This statement was made to the United Press today by one of the highest authorities of the American government regarding President Harding's request to the senate for authorization for the United States to be represented officially in the world court of the league of nations but with reservations keeping this country from any connection with the league itself.

At the present time there does not even exist any very definite plan for such an association, this authority said. He said the policy of the administration was to take up and settle one important thing at a time.

It is now generally agreed in the senate that approval of the president's request cannot be obtained during the last week of the present session.

The chief reason here that the president took his action in order to have the matter before the country during the long recess of congress and thus counteract the activities of those who have been claiming the United States has not been doing its full part in stabilizing world peace.

LAWLESSNESS NOT DUE TO WAR, VIEW

"The epidemic of lawlessness in America," the Rev. Mr. McReynolds, who preached at the Unitarian services held yesterday at the residence of J. D. Parsons, 106 East Chestnut, was not the result of the war as claimed by some, but in the last ten years had actually increased 1200 percent. "On the other hand," he continued, "in England, where economic conditions are more like our own than any other nation in the war, crime has actually decreased."

"But lawlessness of mind has been increasing for a generation in Europe and America. The desire to be free of all restraint inner or outer; the ancient heresy of the beauty and happiness of a life of self-indulgence; the fruit of luxury; and the consequent inhumanity of man to man, has produced and is producing not only war, but rebellion against spiritual discipline in homes and churches; evasion in homes and churches; evasion of mental application in high schools and colleges and in general the decay of mental and moral vigor which makes it possible for even 'teachers of religion' to proclaim that it does not matter what you believe."

JUDGE for yourself. A ROYAL Electric Cleaner took 12,000 Million living organisms from a "clean" rug. Many were identified as disease-producing. It is not safe for your children to play on your carpeted floors, exposed to this danger, unless you have a modern cleaning method to safeguard them. Only the ROYAL Electric Cleaner has demonstrated its ability to draw the most stubbornly embedded deep-seated dirt and dirt from rugs, carpets, upholstery. The powerful suction, scientifically applied, does it. The ROYAL is a cleaner that goes further—it safeguards YOUR health and the health of loved ones. FIFTY LAUNCH COMMUNITY SERVICE

Community Service, outgrowth of war camp activities, was welcomed to Santa Ana today by fifty business men and clubwomen at a luncheon held at St. Ann's Inn, over which Dr. Elliott Rowland presided as chairman.

M. B. Wellington, attorney; Mrs. John Clarkson, president of the Ebell club, and Walter S. Spicer, Chamber of Commerce director, were appointed by Dr. Rowland as a nominating committee to prepare a ticket of proposed permanent officers and present it to a public meeting and luncheon to be held at St. Ann's Inn March 5.

Speakers at today's luncheon who dwelt upon the benefits to be derived by Santa Ana from Community Service included Mrs. A. A. Austin, vice president, Community Service, Anaheim; J. A. Cranston, Santa Ana city school superintendent; Miss Helen Lamson, Santa Ana Americanization teacher; and Charles Anderson, Community Service organizer. S. B. Kaufman, attorney, read the invitation of Community Service headquarters to join the movement.

Santa Ana's work in Community Service would deal largely in providing playgrounds for young children, the promotion of a community center for the city's foreign population, particularly the Mexican colony, in the opinion of the meeting.

Community Service has been endowed by various national institutions and wealthy philanthropists and will cost Santa Ana little in addition to time of workers, it was explained.

HEADS OF NEW BOOSTER CLUB NOMINATED

Everett A. White will be president of the Greater Santa Ana club, if action taken by a nominating committee here at noon today is approved by the general committee at a meeting to be held at White's office Wednesday evening to hear the report of the committee and take up other matters of business that may come before it.

The nominating committee, comprised of White, J. P. Baumgartner, J. A. Cranston, J. R. Mayer and Harry Warner, met at lunch at James's cafe and nominated a list of officers and trustees.

J. A. George will be recommended for vice president and definite selection of a secretary will be left for action later. Trustees to take charge of funds it is proposed to raise for advertising the city in Los Angeles papers will be W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank; S. H. Finley, president of the Y. M. C. A., member of the board of supervisors and large property owner, and Clyde Whitney, adjutant of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion and escrow clerk with the Orange County Title company.

Recommendation will be made that the general committee be increased to include representatives of the various banks and other organizations that may be suggested.

HOTEL APARTMENT IN LONG BEACH TO COST A MILLION AND HALF

LONG BEACH, Feb. 26.—One of the largest hotel-apartments in Southern California was assured for Long Beach today when H. S. Callahan, former city councilman and owner of considerable downtown property, E. S. Horsch, bank director and owner of oil leases on Signal Hill, and R. P. Montgomery purchased an additional 50 feet adjoining their property at Ocean avenue, Cedar and Windsor ways and east of the Blackstone hotel, from Dr. E. R. Harvey for a price withheld. The strip now has a frontage on Ocean avenue of 183 feet.

It is known that plans are being drawn by a Southern California architect for a twelve-story hotel-apartment, which will cost upon completion $1,500,000, and that the architecture will be new in type to this city.

TELLS PROGRAM FOR NURSES' GRADUATION

Announcement of the program to be given tomorrow evening at the graduation exercises of the Community Hospital Training School for Nurses was made today by Miss Edith Patten, superintendent of the hospital.

This is the first commencement held by the school for a number of years, and special care has been taken to make it interesting, instructive and entertaining.

The exercises are to be held at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The young women who will be given their diplomas as graduate nurses by F. C. Blauer, vice-president of the hospital organization, are Misses May Amelia Salter, Mary M. Gall, Vena Jones, Hazel Greenleaf, Juanita Isenor, Bernice Reemer and Helen Whitton.

The address will be by the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, of Los Angeles, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, and the invocation and benediction will be by the Rev. W. E. Roberts, present pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Music for the occasion will include an organ prelude by Miss Ruth Armstrong, a group of songs by Robert Brown, a group of songs by Madam Budrow, and the singing of "America."

The exercises will be open to the public.

GOOD MANNERS

At a large social gathering—say a reception—the guests quite properly chat with one another and even establish lasting acquaintanceship without the formality of a regular introduction. The very fact that another, like one's self, has been invited may be interpreted as an endorsement by the host.

NEWS BRIEFS

According to Charles Hamilton, organizer, it was indicated today that the Temple theater would be packed tonight when movie pictures of scenes taken at Moosheart home, near Chicago, maintained by the Moose lodge will be shown. He announced that no children, save those held on the laps of parents, would be admitted to-night. He is attempting to make arrangements for showing the picture at the high school auditorium Friday evening for the children of the city. It is possible also that the pictures may be run again here one week from tonight, Hamilton said. There is no charge for admission to the theater.

Mrs. Hester C. Walbridge, 119 West Nineteenth street, is rapidly recovering from a serious illness, it was reported today.

A pension of $15 a month has been granted to Charles E. Dixon, Santa Ana, and one of $30 a month to Mary A. Clark, Fullerton, according to information received from Washington, D. C.

Harvey Hadlock, of Washington, D. C., who has recently returned from a tour of Italy, will give a travelogue with colored pictures on "A Romance of Rome" at the Junior high school here tomorrow at 11 a. m. Hadlock will describe the recent revolution in Italy as he witnessed it and show pictures of the famous features of the Eternal City. The entertainment will be open to the public.

E. J. Eaton, West Orange, is home from a two months' visit with his son, Walter J. Eaton, superintendent of a big mine at Farrar, 120 miles below Chihuahua. The mine is owned by the San Francisco Del Oro company, and its capacity of 280 tons of ore a day is to be doubled. Walter Eaton is a graduate of Santa Ana high school and of the Colorado School of Mines.

Fire Friday afternoon did about $300 damage at the residence of W. T. Newland, Huntington Beach. The family was absent. A girl living near saw a smoke coming from the house. A crowd of men at an oil derrick nearby put out the fire. Flames started in the sitting room, and a couch, Indian blanket and baskets, and other articles were destroyed. The property was insured in the Orange County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company.

City teachers will meet Thursday at 3:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium to hear J. A. McLaren discuss "Washington and Lincoln." This will be counted as a session of institute and attendance will be compulsory for all the city teachers, it was announced.

The question as to what kind and the color of dresses which girls of the senior class will wear commencement night in June was scheduled to be decided at a meeting at the Santa Ana high school this afternoon.

Increased funds have been provided for the livestock premium of the 1923 Orange county fair, according to W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, who declared the sum appropriated by the fair board would be $2500. Members of the livestock committee met with Cory late Saturday and discussed the premium list. Classes, it was finally decided, would be modeled somewhat after the manner of the Southern California fair, held at Riverside, Cory said. E. G. Stinson, A. H. Moore and F. D. Plavau are members of the committee, which, following adjournment of the meeting, made a visit to Fred Bixby at Long Beach in the interest of the committee activities.

"Fairy Bells," an instrument constructed and played by Harry Garstang, music supervisor of Santa Ana elementary schools, was the feature of the Mexican community program given at the Junior high school Saturday night, according to Miss Helen Lamson, Americanization teacher here, who reviewed the evening's program today. Juan Ruiz and his orchestra contributed several numbers. Response to the recent appeal for seeds and slips for the benefit of Mexican gardens was immediate and generous, Miss Lamson said.

George Jeffrey of Irvine presented a cluster of fifteen oranges to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce exhibit at the city hall, according to announcement of J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber, today.

W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, today announced that dairymen of Orange county will hold a meeting at the ranch of E. G. Stinson at Orange, Saturday, March 3.

Edwin F. Whedon, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, with W. D. Johnson and C. R. Baxter, today was engaged in membership work at Westminster. More than 100 new members have been signed up in the Westminster Smetzer and Wintersburg district, reports indicated.

Four building permits were issued here today representing $11,900 of construction work, according to the records of W. S. Decker, building inspector. For the month to date the total was 129 permits for $222,983 of work, and for the year 298 permits for $662,117 of work.

POLY FOLK TO BE ON RADIO
BILL HERE

The boys and girls' glee clubs of the Santa Ana high school, directed by Miss Margaret Wickes, are scheduled to broadcast a program tonight for KFAW, The Register radio.

The program as the boys and girls' glee clubs will present it, follows:
Girls' club, "June Rhapsody"; male quartette, "Three-Minute Minstrels"; vocal solo, "Hark the Lark"; violin duet, "Spring's Awakening"; male quartette, "Go Ask Papa"; mixed chorus, "Carmina"; piano solo, quartette from "Rigoletto"; mixed chorus, soldiers' chorus from "Faust".
The soloists are Eva Turpin, Jack Langley, Leon Gardner and Effie Jessup.

The broadcasting hour is from 6:30 to 7:30.
Since KFAW, The Register broadcasting station, set its broadcasting hour ahead, making it 6:30 to 7:30, numerous reports are coming in from eastern points, written by listeners who have picked up the programs.

Enjoys Words of Cheer.
Robert Mees of Columbus, Ohio, writes that KFAW comes in clear and strong and that he enjoys the words of cheer from the land of eternal Spring.

J. D. Banks, 1201 Logan St., Denver, Colo., says:
"I receive KFAW while the big Denver station, KDZQ, is broadcasting about a mile from here."

Caird Vandersloot, N. J., February 19, and listened with much pleasure, he says, to the Hawaiian music played on that date by Mrs. M. S. Robinson and Wayne Hoffman for KFAW. His report says:
"Tonight, at about ten o'clock, I distinctly heard KFAW on the air with some steel guitar music. The music and modulation were of a quality hard to beat. I was using one peanut tube. I have witnesses to confirm this reception. I hope to hear many more of your good programs."

Realizing that a great deal of favorable publicity can be given Eastern people for Orange County, KFAW has arranged to say a good word for this county on every program.

Towns to Give Bills.
In order that the entire county may be represented on these programs, every town in the county has been asked to present a special bill during the next two or three months. The chamber of commerce in each town will have the arrangement of the program in hand.

It is expected that a musical concert will be given and a brief talk made, setting forth the outstanding features that each Orange county town possesses.

The schedule of programs has been arranged as follows:
Thursday, March 8, Anaheim.
Monday, March 12,
Thursday, March 15, Huntington Beach.
Monday, March 19, Laguna Beach.
Thursday, March 22, San Juan Capistrano.
Monday, March 26, Balboa Beach.
Thursday, March 29, Costa Mesa.
Monday, April 2, El Modena.
Thursday, April 5, Tustin.
Monday, April 9, Fullerton.
Thursday, April 12, Orange.
Monday, April 16, Newport Beach.
Thursday, April 19, Brea, district.
Monday, April 23, Seal Beach.
Thursday, April 26, Buena Park.
Monday, April 30, Garden Grove.

Protesting slashing of state library funds as outlined in the governor's budget, the librarians of Southern California, meeting at Long Beach last Saturday, adopted a resolution to be forwarded to state senators and assemblymen from this district, according to Miss Margaret Livingston, librarian of the Orange county free library, today. "In many cases the budget cuts would reduce library funds two-thirds or more," Miss Livingston said. "The withholding of funds would cripple school and other educational libraries."

POLY DEBATERS ON EDGE FOR DEBATES

Santa Ana and Orange high school debaters will clash at the high school auditorium here at 9:40 a. m. Friday, while a team from the local school engages a team from the Anaheim school in verbal combat at the Mother Colony. It was announced today, if the Santa Anans should win these two debates they would become champions of the Orange County Debating league.
The question will be, "Resolved, debating coach, said."

JAIL THREE AS LIQUOR FOUND IN BED

Pablo Flores faced bootlegging charges today, as the result of an asserted sale by him of a pint of liquor to City Marshal Claude Rogers last Saturday night.

Two other men, said to have been found in bed with five more pints of liquor at the home of Marcus Maldonado, 1903 West Third street, were also held.

Rogers and a companion drove up to the Flores house on West Fifth street, it was said, and told him that they wanted a couple of pints. They gave him $6, including a marked $5 bill, and Flores left to get the liquor, the officers said. Meanwhile City Motorcycle Officer V. Barnhill and County Motorcycle Officer Frank Stewart followed Flores to the house where he was said to have obtained the liquor.

When he returned to complete the sale, Rogers arrested Flores, while the other two officers raided the Maldonado home. The two men were arrested, and several other persons were found in bed. Examination of the bed disclosed the presence of five pints of moonshine, authorities declared.

The men were scheduled to be arraigned before City Recorder W. F. Heathman today.

WIFE IN GIRL CASE
RELEASED BY COURT

Justice J. B. Cox here today dismissed Mrs. Fern Britton on charges of contributing to the delinquency of Zuelia Vaughn, Fullerton high school girl.

Mrs. Britton was first arrested with her husband on serious charges following the disappearance of the Vaughn girl after an alleged "wild party" at the Britton home.

At a preliminary hearing the charges against Mrs. Britton were dismissed, although the husband was held for trial in superior court. A mistrial resulted, and Britton is now free on bonds awaiting a re-trial.

Today's hearing was featured by frequent and heated tilts between Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin and Defense Attorney Clyde Bishop.

COUPLE HURT WHEN CYCLE TURNS OVER

Serious injuries as a result of an accident near San Juan Capistrano late last night, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Simonds, Los Angeles, were at the Community hospital here today.

The Simonds were coming toward Santa Ana in a motorcycle and side car, when the machine struck a hole in the pavement and overturned, they said.

The couple rushed to the Community hospital, where it was found that Mrs. Simonds was suffering from a badly torn hand and cuts about the head, and that Simonds sustained a severely strained back.

Twenty-four stitches were necessary to close Mrs. Simonds' wounds.

It was expected that they would be taken to their homes in Los Angeles late today.

AUDITORS TO WAR
ON FREAK BILLS

Returning from the joint convention of county auditors and tax collectors of the state, held at Santa Barbara, County Auditor W. C. Jerome today was giving thoughtful consideration to legislative matters preparatory to his appearance before the state legislators when the legislature reconvenes at Sacramento.

Jerome, who was named vice president of the auditors' association, was also appointed chairman of the legislative committee. In his capacity as chairman, he will appear before the law-making body, devoting a large part of his time to a close scrutiny of "freak bills" and so-called "half-baked" legislation.

It was the sense of those assembled at Santa Barbara, Jerome said, to do everything possible to aid the state in its economy program, but the auditors and tax collectors will be vigilant at all times in connection with proposed legislation.

In the sessions held at Santa Barbara much of the discussion of the auditors and tax collectors centered about legislative matters which will come up at the present session of the legislature.

The mercantile marine department of the British Board of Trade has announced that the Imperial Merchant Service Guild hereafter will permit women to take examinations to become captains and other officers of the mercantile marine.

That the United States Should Recognize the Present Government of Mexico.
Josephine Rodriguez and John Donan will uphold the affirmative here, while Gerald Price and George Lamme will champion the negative for the Santa Ana school at Anaheim.
"Santa Ana's chances of winning the championship are more than excellent," E. T. Worthy, local debating coach, said.

DELEGATES TO BIG
'Y' MEET RETURN

Victorious delegates to the State Y. M. C. A. convention at Santa Barbara this week-end had returned home today and were telling the story of how they won the 1924 convention for Santa Ana.

Everything went as programmed, the delegates said. Next year's convention was won for Santa Ana on the open floor when the association convened for business last Saturday.

J. P. Baumgartner presented the formal invitation, which was in form of a letter from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, and supplemented this with a brief address. Col. S. H. Finley, president of the local Y. M. C. A., and members of the delegation furnished the enthusiasm. Harry Lewis, O. H. Barr, George Chesnut and Ralph Smiley probably furnished the politics.

An incident of the convention that brought Santa Ana into the limelight was the assuming by O. H. Barr of deficit of $1000 in the state fund for boys' work.

One of the convention speakers was Alfred Mendoza, a Santa Ana boy now attending Pomona college.

INJURED MINER
IN LONG TRIP TO HOSPITAL

Transported 24 miles in an ambulance, while he was suffering intense pain from a leg fracture and numerous cuts and bruises sustained when a tunnel at his mine in Trabuco canyon caved in on him, Henry Zilex, 45, was at the county hospital today.

The story of the accident, and the efforts of hospital attendants and friends of the injured man to get him to a place where medical assistance could be given, was stirring.

Zilex was working in a small mine which he has been operating, when a tunnel caved in. A large rock fell on his leg, fracturing it in three places below the knee. He was rendered unconscious and his wife, and a friend, John Nugent, Santa Ana, who was visiting at the camp, feared for his life.

turn trip. Friends of the injured man had refused to allow him to be transported without a physician, since his pain was so great that it was thought that an anesthetic would be necessary.

Later Dr. H. E. Zaiser returned with the ambulance. The return trip was made safely, as Zilex was propped up, his leg splinted. He slept a portion of the way, the physician said.

Much of the road to the canyon mine is virtually impassable for so heavy a vehicle as the ambulance, Dr. Zaiser declared.

The injured man's condition was regarded as satisfactory today, and his recovery was expected.

Don't let skin trouble unfit you for the day's work

Ecema, ringworm, and other itching rashes seldom heal themselves, but Resinol Ointment does heal them and makes refreshing sleep possible for skin sufferers.

One who has used this comforting, healing ointment writes: "Resinol Ointment is so soothing it stopped my itching at once and I got the first night's sleep I had had in weeks. Now my skin is well. What it has done for one it can do for others. Why don't you try it?"

Resinol Soap and Resinol Shaving stick contain the same soothing ingredients which enable them to thoroughly cleanse the skin yet leave it free from sensitiveness and smarting.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

YOST—Four acts of vaudeville and "How Women Love," with Betty Blythe.

WEST END—"The Real Adventure," with Florence Vidor.

PRINCESS—"The Third Alarm," with Ralph Lewis.

"HOW WOMEN LOVE" AT

YOST TONIGHT

A beautiful prima donna, fresh from Italy—a young American composer—a villainous American millionaire—these are the ingredients of a picture, "How Women Love," starring Betty Blythe, which opens a two-day engagement at the Yost tonight.

"How Women Love" is the story of a girl who promised not to fall in love. She was young. She came to New York from Italy. She had a wonderful voice. She had wonderful eyes. That is, she had everything to make a man love her —and when the right man came along, naturally she fell in love with him.

Betty Blythe plays the role of this temperamental prima donna.

Miss Blythe is undoubtedly one of the most attractive of screen stars, and her role as a woman who wears marvelous clothes, gets into temperamental furies and tender calms, gives her full scope of display one of the most fascinating of screen personalities.

"How Women Love" was adapted by Dorothy Farnum from "The Dangerous Inheritance," by Izola

Forrester, and was directed by Kenneth Webb.

Charles De Roche, who bears a striking resemblance to Georges

Carpentier, has completed his role as leading man in "The Law of the Lawless." In that he is a gypsy, Carpentier recently completed "A Gypsy Cavalier."

It is 30 below zero on location

300 miles northwest of Montreal where Alice Brady is being filmed in "The Snow Bride."

Fay Tincher has returned to the screen after an absence of two years.

Wes Barry is on a 12-weeks personal appearance tour, Boston to

Los Angeles. Then he will star

in "David Copperfield."

Bryant Washburn has supplanted

Antonio Moreno in the title role of "Rupert of Hentzau."

Colleen Moore and James Morrison are to play the leads in "The Nth Commandment.

Bert Lytell is to be starred in

"The Meanest Man in the World."

After that he will appear in "The Winning of Barbara," "Worth,"

"The Re-Creation of Brian Kent."

Lila Lee is leading woman and

Florence Dixon, who was seen in

"Anna Ascends," with Alice Brady,

is the other girl. Charles Abbe,

who played "Cappy Ricks" with

Mr. Meighan has one of the principal character roles as have Frederick Burton and Eddie Borden,

the latter a comedian with a large following on the vaudeville stage.

Laurence Wheat, who appeared in several Meighan pictures, has an important part. Other members of the cast are Cyril Ring, who appeared in "Conquest of Canaan,"

Ned Burton, Gertrude Quinlan

and Maude Turner Gordon.

"THE THIRD ALARM" AT
PRINCESS TOMORROW

Fire "buffs" throughout the country are getting the fun of their lives out of "The Third Alarm," the stupendous Emory Johnson fire thriller which opens tomorrow at the Princess for a two-day run.

Every sizeable community in the United States has its loyal and enthusiastic group of men who go to every fire, who help the firemen in their work of service, who try in a hundred ways to make the lot of the fire-fighters an easier one.

These men call themselves,
"buffs."

In New York, for example, there are hundreds of "buffs," who have formed an organization that meets from time to time.

These men, in many of the greatest cities of the United States, have seen "The Third Alarm" and given it their unqualified endorsement.

"THE WORLD'S APPLAUSE" AT WEST END TOMORROW

What harm newspaper publicity and notoriety can do persons in public life when scandal turns its forces against them, is the central theme of William de Mille's latest production, "The World's Applause," featuring Bebe Daniels and Lewis Stone, which comes to the West End theater tomorrow.

Bebe Daniels has the role of Corinne d'Alva, a successful actress, whose high place has been largely due to her insatiable search for publicity. Lewis Stone takes the role of John Elliott, a dramatic producer, who becomes enmeshed in emotional situations of compelling force when his sister (Kathlyn Williams) allows jealousy of her artist husband (Adolphe Menjou) to drag them all into a quarrel of scandal and tragedy.

From this point on the drama proceeds to an unexpected conclusion, creating, it is said, a typically well-rounded, dramatic entertainment.

An ultra-modern note is struck by Miss Daniels in her costumes, which are unusually elaborate.

Other supporting roles are filled by such players as Brandon Hurst, Bernice Frank, Maym Kelso, Geo.
Kuwa and James Neill.

NOTABLE CAST APPEARS IN MEIGHAN FILM

A large and notable cast was selected for Thomas Meighan's latest picture, "Back Home and Broke," George Ade's second original story for the screen, which comes to the Yost theater Wednesday.

Lila Lee is leading woman and Florence Dixon, who was seen in
"Anna Ascends," with Alice Brady,

is the other girl. Charles Abbe,
who played "Cappy Ricks" with
Mr. Meighan has one of the principal character roles as have Frederick Burton and Eddie Borden,

the latter a comedian with a large
following on the vaudeville stage.

Laurence Wheat, who appeared in several Meighan pictures, has an important part. Other members of the cast are Cyril Ring, who appeared in "Conquest of Canaan,"

Ned Burton, Gertrude Quinlan
and Maude Turner Gordon.

Bert Lytell is to be starred in
"The Meanest Man in the World."

After that he will appear in "The

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Betrothal Announced At College Affair In Berkeley

Friends in this city and in the vicinity of Cypress were deeply interested today in the receipt of cards announcing the betrothal of Miss Arline Rice of Petaluma, a member of the 1923 class of the University of California at Berkeley, to Ralph La Rue of the class of 1923 and a graduate of Santa Ana high school in 1918.

Mr. La Rue, who remained at Santa Ana high for a year of post-graduate studies, is entering Berkeley, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh La Rue of Cypress, owners and proprietors of the general store there.

The engagement was announced Saturday at a bridge luncheon given in Berkeley by Mrs. Benjamin McAllister, formerly Miss Dorothy Dow, a college mate and sorority sister of Miss Rice. The affair offered a double announcement since the engagement of Miss Helen Kendall of Berkeley was told at the same time. Hostess and two honor guests are alike, Miss Zeta, while Mr. La Rue is a Phi Kappa Tau.

The wedding date has not yet been announced, but it is understood that the young people are planning it for early summer and will make their home in Southern California.

Bridal Showers End In Pretty Wedding

Bridal showers and wedding bells offered entertainment to guests gathered Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Winslow, 1724 Spurgeon street, when a delightful affair was planned to honor Miss Blanche Sadler of Correctionville, Iowa, a niece of the hostess, and Miss Muriel Leach of this city.

Guests were members of Mrs. Winslow's Sunday school class of the First M. E. church. They found the home prettily decorated in a color scheme of yellow and white. Sweet peas were used in the effective table appointments and Miss Alice Winslow assisted in serving the repast.

At its conclusion, the little Misses Audrey Allen and Barbara Winslow, granddaughters of the hostess, presented each of the honor guests with a basket filled with useful gifts from the Bethany class, in view of the approaching marriage of each.

Jostling, Miss Leach expressed the wish that she might be married then as everything was in readiness. No sooner was the desire voiced than the consent of Mrs. Winslow was given, arrangements were hastily made and the marriage ceremony uniting Miss Muriel Leach and Harvey Hart, which was to have taken place Sunday, was performed by Rev. Will Betts at 6:30 p. m.

The ring service was used and little Barbara Winslow carried the ring in a calla lily.

The bride was lovely in her going-away gown and carried an arm bouquet of rose buds and freesias. Beside the guests invited to the shower, the bride's immediate family were the only ones to witness the impressive service.

Later the happy couple left amid a shower of rice and best wishes of their friends. Upon their return they will reside on East Chestnut street.

Gymnasium Section

Members of the recently organized gymnasium section of Ebell club will meet tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 5 in the high school gymnasium where they will be directed by Miss M. Birdenla Henry. Anyone wishing information regarding the section may call the secretary, Mrs. Mark Lacy, 1648-W.

Frank Ormstrom will be art director for Norma Talmadge in "Within the Law" and for Constance Talmadge in "Madame Pompadour."

Fell Out. Cuticura Healed.

"When my boy was three months old his head was covered with small, red pimples that were inflamed. Finally the pimples formed sore eruptions that scaled over, and his hair all fell out around the affected parts. Different remedies were tried but without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two months he was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. E. Houy, North Gate Rd., Riverside, Illinois.

Five Hundred Offers Entertainment to Congenial Group

One of the pleasant end of the week affairs was the evening of five hundred with which Professor and Mrs. G. V. Linsenbard called together a group of friends Saturday night.

Grouped at small tables around the big fire-place whose sparkling blaze added cheer to the occasion, the guests enjoyed a series of lively games at the close of which Mrs. A. G. Flagg and F. C. Silver were adjudged victors with Mrs. C. W. Hutchings and E. R. Roehm as close seconds.

Mrs. Flagg's reward for her skill was a beautifully executed little oil painting suitably framed while an attractive cigar case fell to Mr. Silver. Second prize of a bottle of fine perfume was given Mrs. Hutchings while Mr. Roehm received linen handkerchiefs.

Following the gift award, Mrs. Linsenbard with the assistance of the Misses Julia and Gertrude Linsenbard served hot chocolate, pink and white ices and cake at tables decked with dainty linens and centered with attractive rose cups filled with sugared walnuts.

Gathered to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Linsenbard were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Artz, Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Alec Elmslie, Huntington Beach; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hutchings, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Snow, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. William McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Elton R. Roehm, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Silver, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Miss Julia Linsenbard, Miss Gertrude Linsenbard and Dr. H. J. Howard.

Mid-Winter Bride Is Surprised When Showered With Gifts

When Mrs. Julian Mathews made preparations to entertain a guest at her pretty new home at 813 North Ross street late last week, she little realized that she was to be the victim of a friendly plot on the part of members of the Philathea class and Sunday school orchestra of the Spurgeon Memorial church.

Mrs. Leroy Wardlow of Corona, (formerly Miss Elma Huff of this city) had notified Mrs. Mathews of her intention of making her a brief visit and the two were spending the evening in pleasant reminiscences when the arrival of a group of guests disclosed the secret of the party.

The event was arranged in honor of the marriage in early January of Miss Lela Sebastian and Mr. Julian D. Mathews, facts of which were not related to their friends until February 5, almost a month after the event.

The evening was spent in music and conversation and during its course delightful refreshments with which the guests had thoughtfully come provided were served on the pretty bridal china of the new home.

Called from the room on some pretext, Mrs. Mathews was surprised upon her return to find the center of the rug covered with dainty packages. She was seated in their midst and instructed to open all packages she saw. The gifts of a widely varied nature were from the members of the two organizations.

Mr. Mathews' return from his orchestra duties called for more music and he gave a number of beautiful cornet solos, bringing a very happy evening to a close.

Entertain for Northern Guests

Complimenting two winter visitors in the city, Miss Rosa Mattis and Miss Kate Schminke of Alameda, was a delicious chicken dinner given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Taylor of 820 Riverside street.

The guests were joined by Miss Etta Hale, Miss Cora Craig, Mrs. Cecil Drake and Mrs. Eleanor Elliott and a pleasant evening enjoyed.

Miss Mattis and Miss Schminke plan to leave early in March for their Alameda home, after having spent the winter in a cozy little apartment on Halesworth street.

Creative Arts Club

An enjoyable experience fell to the lot of members of the Creative Arts club yesterday when they went to Los Angeles to attend the opening reception and tea of the Southern California Artists' exhibit at the University.

In the evening all were guests at the Pot Boiler where an unusually interesting number of artists were present. These included Ella Hotelling Tanberg of Hollywood and Laguna Beach and Helena Dunlap, recognized as the greatest artistic genius of California.

To add to the interest was the presence of Bliss Carman, noted poet, who is a cousin of Mrs. Sigurd Russell. Mr. and Mrs. Russell were hosts at the Pot Boiler. Mr. Carman delighted the hundred guests present by reading two of his latest poems, "The Manzanita" and "Truce of the Manito" the latter based on an Indian legend of the Kootenay Indians of Alaska.

The Pot Boiler will move soon from its present location in the Little Egan theater to a new site and the Creative Arts club has accepted with enthusiasm, an invitation to be guests again in the near future.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Daniels of Medford, Ore., were over Sunday guests of Mrs. Susie Rutherford at Balboa. They formerly were residents of Santa Ana and are visiting with friends and relatives in Los Angeles.

John Rockefeller of Modesto has arrived for a few days' visit with the family of his sister, Mrs. C. F. Kneen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin, 1010 Fairview avenue, had the pleasure of a week-end visit from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ousley, who with their son Kenneth and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lord arrived from Hemet, California to be guests in the Baldwin home.

Cradle Roll Mothers To Meet Wednesday

Mrs. Merle Morris, 1006 North French street will entertain the Cradle Roll Mothers' circle of the First Christian church Wednesday afternoon February 28 at 2:30 o'clock.

Torosa Rebekah

Members of the degree staff of Torosa Rebekah are requested to meet at I. O. O. F. hall tomorrow night at 7 o'clock for practice in anticipation of the approaching visit of Mrs. Mary M. Pierce of Los Angeles, president of the Rebekah assembly.

Wedding Is Disclosed When Bride Arrives To Join Husband

The arrival in this city Saturday afternoon of Mrs. E. Merle, Husson from her former home in Upland, disclosed the facts of a quiet marriage in this city January 27 when Miss Ila Gloria Stoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Stoner of Upland became the bride of Mr. Husson, county editor of the Register.

The January wedding was known to a few friends of the young people including Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Hurd who acted as attendants at the quiet ceremony at which Judge John B. Cox officiated. Following the ceremony and a pleasant day spent by the four in Hollywood, the bride returned to her home in the Little Foothill city and the marriage was not generally announced until her arrival Saturday.

The wedding was the culmination of a romance beginning several years ago in Ashland, Oregon. Plans for a honeymoon are deferred until June and vacation time and in the meantime the Hussons will receive their friends at 410 West Richmond avenue where they are pleasantly established.

Ebell Travelers

With Mrs. James M. Harding entertaining the members of Ebell's Third Travel section late last week, a most interesting resume of Island affairs was given.

Mrs. Roy Shafer introduced the topic in her paper on "Natives, Customs and Industries of the Philippine Islands" and in an interesting manner included also the islands of Guam and Yap. Mrs. E. B. Sprague followed with a discussion of "The Value of Island Possessions to the United States." Roll call in which each answered with a current event pertaining to the subject, brought out many additional items of information as did the lively discussions.

The proposed woman's exchange to be opened soon by the club as a whole also offered a fruitful subject for discussion.

Dinner-Dance Proves One of Season's Smart Affairs

Unusually pleasant was the dinner dance with which Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Simon entertained a large guest group Saturday night at St. Ann's inn.

In arranging table decorations, the hostess used her original ideas, thus giving a charming individuality to the effect achieved by the use of sprays of the silvery leaved Brewerii. Against this as a background, were bright pink blossoms of double ivy geranium and dainty little blue posies, giving a decided French touch.

Through arrangements with Fred Chapman, of the Chapman orchestra, a number of special musical numbers were given, embodying favorites of those entertaining and adding to the charming air of hospitality and intimacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon extended about eighty invitations to the affair which proved to be one of the most enjoyable functions of the season.

Stocks Liberal

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—Thirteen boxes of asparagus were received and sold from 40 cents to $1 per box, according to quality. Receipts will undoubtedly increase if the warmer weather continues. Artichokes are still being received in liberal amounts. Best artichokes are selling at $13 per crate. Mushrooms brought 25 to 75 cents per pound, which is 25 cents lower by this pound. Fifteen crates of strawberries were received by express from Southern California and sold from $4.50 to $5 per crate. Florida strawberries are selling at the rate of 50 to 75 cents per basket, but are said to be costing the shipper 85 cents. The turkey market is easier as the end of the season draws near. Many of the turkeys are said to be grassy and valuable only for immediate consumption. Dressed poultry by express amounted to 4,406 pounds.

Steel Common Makes Startling Gain Under Campaign
By Bulls

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Early strength which carried Steel common to the year's highest level and resulted in the establishment of a record 1923 prices for several standard rails of the caliber of New York Central and Union Pacific, proved to be an outburst of unorganized bullishness, based on the exceptional prosperity being enjoyed by the steel industry and unparalleled volume of traffic being handled by the railroads.

This demonstration in the initial dealings was followed by resumption of the corrective reaction precipitated last week by the advance in the re-discount rate of the federal reserve bank of New York.

The market closed irregular. Closing prices:

FINANCIAL COMMENT

Short Talks on Current Events of Interest to Investors
By James Wilbur

With the German mark selling on the London exchange at 20,000 to the dollar, the comedy of fiat money in Germany may be regarded as approaching an end, with the world the wiser for one of the greatest lessons ever administered as to the inevitable results of unlimited issue of paper money not properly secured.

Severe as have been the results of Germany's excursion into the realm of depreciated currency, causing as it has a loss estimated at $1,000,000,000 to Americans who had a childlike faith in the good faith of the German nation and its ability to weather economic storms, the lesson all too soon will have been forgotten.

This is not by any means the first time a great nation has issued unsecured money until its value was extinguished. In fact at the same time American investors were buying German marks in the hope that some day they would return to par, the Russian ruble had declined to almost worthlessness and the Polish mark was only slightly higher.

But such is the nature of the American public that despite these forcible examples, they persisted in the belief that German money was backed by the German people, who at that time enjoyed a high reputation for thrift and honesty of purpose.

Some of the holders of German marks have not yet come to a realization that their marks are worth more as old paper than as German money. They yet persist in the belief that some day the mark again will be recognized as real money, and that then they will reap their profits.

GRAIN PRICES DROP ON CHICAGO BOARD

(By United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—All grains closed lower on the Chicago board of trade today as a result of lower foreign markets and a weakening of the export demand.

Deferred deliveries in wheat led the decline on reports of rain and snow throughout the winter wheat belt which has needed moisture badly for several months. A little rally toward the close due to short covering carried prices slightly above the day's low. Seaboard advances indicated approximately 500,000 bushels of Manitoba and Durum wheat were worked for export.

Corn was under pressure throughout the session as a result of continued heavy receipts. Both foreign and domestic demand was weak and the buying power was limited. The feeder demand had practically disappeared with continued heavy receipts. Approximately 250,000 bushels were worked for export.

Oats failed to respond to bearish influences to as great an extent as other grains being aided by light receipts and heavy feeder demand. About 160,000 bushels of rye were worked for export.

BREA TO GREET ASSOCIATED CHAMBERS

The monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will be held at Craig Hall, Brea, Wednesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock, J. C. Metzgar, secretary, announced here today. Metzgar requested that reservation be made with him at once.

According to Metzgar, no special business is scheduled to come before the meeting, although he anticipated that general discussions would introduce subjects on county matters that will prove of interest.

A speaker is expected to be present from Riverside to discuss points in Senate Bill No. 530, introduced in the state senate by Senator Lyon at the request of the request of the public service commission of Los Angeles city.

According to Riversiders, the bill provides that larger cities of the state may condemn power sites and rights wherever needed, and that it makes it possible for the larger cities even to take away from small cities power they may own and control. Riverside, San Bernardino counties are vitally concerned and Associated Chamber of Commerce of the two counties have passed resolutions opposing the bill. The Orange county organization will be requested to urge Senator Walter Eden and Assemblyman C. D. Ball to oppose the measure.

L. A. MAN ON PICNIC EATS MEAL, LIGHTS CIGARETTE AND DIES

The body of William O. Van Dyne, 40, of 969 Iola street, Los Angeles, who died suddenly yesterday while attending a picnic at Laguna Beach, was to be removed to Los Angeles from the Winbiger Mission funeral parlors, where it had been held while Coroner C. D. Brown conducted an investigation.

After eating a hearty meal, Van Dyne complained of being ill and remarked that he would sit down and smoke a cigarette. He had taken but a few puffs when he fell over. When friends reached his side he was dead.

The body was removed to the funeral parlors here, and Coroner C. D. Brown pronounced death due to heart failure.

CAR THIEF SUSPECT HELD AFTER CRASH

George Neal, colored, was in the county jail here today, on suspicion of automobile thefts and facing charges of reckless driving, and three other members of an asserted wild party, including one girl, were in the Anaheim hospital, as a result of a crash in which an automobile was wrecked at the intersection of the Placentia and Richfield roads last night.

Neal was thought to have been driving, according to Under Sheriff E. E. French, who arrested him, although the suspect denied that accusation. The automobile was proceeding down the Placentia road at a high rate of speed, it was declared, and in turning the corner, a rear wheel slid into a concrete irrigation ditch, overturning the machine.

Nelson M. Wauls, Miss Amy Strauss, Los Angeles; and W. R. Williams, all colored, of Los Angeles were taken to the Anaheim hospital, where they received treatment for serious cuts and bruises. They were still confined there today.

Ester Darsey, the other occupant of the car, was able to return to Los Angeles last night.

Communicating with Pasadena authorities, French was told that the car, which was registered to H. H. Benedict, 44 West Washington street, had been stolen last Friday. The officials were planning to hold the men and women at the hospital, pending an investigation.

SANTA ANA COLLEGE DEBATE TEAM AGAIN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Southern California champions. That title has again come to Santa Ana.

This time to the junior college debating team. Winning from Chaffee union junior college in two debates last Thursday local debaters placed themselves at the top of the college with the possible exception of a final debate with San Diego which was scheduled to debate the winner among the other schools in the league.

San Diego has withdrawn its claim to that debate and thereby leaves Santa Ana with the title of league champion.

BUILDING PLAN CUT IS URGED ON EBELL

Limiting of the Ebelle clubhouse building program to the erection of an auditorium, section room and kitchenette was recommended by Mrs. O. M. Robbins, chairman of the building committee, to the club at its meeting at the Temple theater here this afternoon.

Mrs. Robbins presented the views of her committee in a clear and forceful manner, pointing out that it is not advisable at this time to carry out the larger program, to include a banquet room and other features that have been discussed.

Other matters of a business nature were scheduled to come before the organization in the way of committee reports.

The entertainment program was to include music and readings by Mrs. Arnold Peek and Eleanor Young Elliott of Santa Ana, and Miss Mabel Woodworth of Garden Grove.

EXPECT BATTLE WHEN GIRL CASE IS TRIED

Attorneys were prepared today for the re-trial, tomorrow, of William Wilson, Orange youth, before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams on serious charges said to have resulted from an incident occurring at a dance in Olive.

Wilson, tried in the same court several weeks ago, was the subject of jury disagreement. Because of this fact, a bitter battle was expected tomorrow.

At the request of Attorney Thomas A. McFadden, defense counsel, a special venire, including no Orange resident, was selected for the trial. Ames and McFadden, Anaheim, represent the defense.

Possibly a score of witnesses from Orange and the vicinity had been subpoenaed today. Among these were the young girl whose father was the complainant, and her sister, both of whom were said to have attended the dance at Olive.

DAMAGE IN FIRE AT STORE CLAIMED $1,000

Underwriters today were estimating damage done to stock in the store room of the Roth Hardware store on East Fourth street, which was attacked by fire early Saturday morning.

"Roughly, I judged the damage to be $1,000," said Fire Chief John Luxembourg. "Several kegs of nails and other hardware were damaged, as were cans of paint and pieces of electrical equipment."

No cause was given for the fire.

BIG AUXILIARY BENEFIT SHOW PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Accomplished Dutch Girls To Feature With Folk Songs and Dances

PLAN MUSIC NUMBERS

Local Members to Pose As Living Models of Well Known Art Pictures

Assuring Santa Ana and Orange county residents some excellent entertainment, members of the auxiliary of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion, today announced the complete program for the two benefit performances to be given by the auxiliary at the Legion home here tomorrow.

At the afternoon performance, scheduled for 3 o'clock, Constance and Peronne Arntzenius, accomplished Dutch entertainers, will appear among the headliners.

The charming sisters, who delighted Laguna Beach audiences with their performance at the Community clubhouse, will sing quaint folk songs and give a number of quaint dances. They are twins—and yet they are not twins. In point of fact, they constitute two of a trio. The other member of the triangle is their brother, Paul, well known in Holland as a landscape artist.

These Dutch wonder girls are daughters of G. R. Arntzenius, secretary of state of the second chamber of states general, The Hague, Holland. Their mother was Constance Boddart, a descendant of the old Flemish nobility.

Will Assist Program
Marie Elizabeth Briggs, of the Mead Normal School of Dancing, who maintains a studio at St. Ann's inn, has graciously consented to assist at the evening performance, scheduled for 8 o'clock. This attractive dancer will contribute a Spanish number.

The eight living pictures of famous paintings, in which auxiliary members will act as models, will form an important and beautiful part of the entertainment.

Appearing at the afternoon performance, Mrs. Arnold Peck, accomplished pianist, and Loren Cannon, violinist, a pupil of Olli-mae Matthews, will play for the living pictures.

At the evening show, Miss Glenda Mae Wagner will play for the pictures, while Virginia Slabaugh will contribute a violin solo, accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh.

Numbers to be given by the Arntzenius sisters at the afternoon performance include:

Announcement Numbers
Constance Arntzenius; "Lift the Latch," Old Dutch; "Que ne suis-je," Old French; "Once I Loved," Old English; "Al Mirror," Old Spanish; "Flip," with dance, Old Dutch; "Klein Peter, Keins Knie," German; "Le Village," Old French; "Foglia di Fiore," Italian; "The Song of the Night," Ukrainian and "Seven-Step" with dance, Old Dutch.

DANCING TWINS TO APPEAR IN LEGION AUXILIARY BENEFIT

Here are the charming Dutch twins, Constance and Peronne Arntzenius, who are to sing quaint folk songs and do quaint dances at the benefit performances to be given by the auxiliary of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion here tomorrow afternoon and evening. The sisters are as alike as two peas in a pod. The only way you can distinguish is to focus your mind on Constance. She does all the talking.

STATE MUSIC FOLK AWAIT MEET HERE

Music clubs in all sections of California are actively engaged in making plans for the part they are to play in the annual convention of the California Federation of Music clubs to be held here April 4, 5, 6 and 7, according to advice received by Clarence Gustlin, vice-president, who has the arrangements for entertainment in charge.

"We find," said Gustlin, "that there is keen and widespread interest in the coming convention. Although the sessions are several weeks off, it seems fitting to advise that clubs and individuals should begin at once to plan their attendance."

"In this connection, those who expect to participate in the sessions should communicate with Miss Lulu Minter, chairman of hotels and reservations, 322 West Third street, Santa Ana.

Local Clubs Co-operate.
Beside the Santa Ana Musical association and the Orange County Choral union, which are official hosts to the convention, many other bodies, musical and civic, are heartily co-operating to make this event the most enjoyable, as well as the most profitable one of the kind ever held in California."

Gustlin said arrangements are now being made by Mrs. Lillian Birmingham, president, to secure a special car to bring the northern delegates and visitors to the convention.

According to present plans, the convention will open Wednesday evening, April 4, with a reception at St. Ann's inn. Following this, will be a presentation of Sullivan's "Golden Legend," by the Orange County Choral union, under direction of Ellis Rhodes. Supper at the inn will close the evening's festivities.

Plan Excellent Programs.
"Although the day sessions are not yet ready for definite announcement," said Gustlin, "it may be said that they will be replete with excellent musical offerings, addresses, round table discussions and other interesting features."

Inasmuch as the week of the

MAIL BOX RULE IS EFFECTIVE THURSDAY

Houses Minus Receptacles for Letters to Be Cut from Free Delivery

Three days only remain in which to erect the necessary mail box or cut a slot in the front door in compliance with orders of the postmaster general, C. D. Overshiner, Santa Ana postmaster, said today.

Dwellings minus this aid to the mailman will be notified and cut from the free delivery route, according to the ruling from Washington. The householder will find it necessary to make the trip to the postoffice whenever he expects mail to arrive, if he fails to comply with the postal edict.

Explains Situation

Postmaster Overshiner explained the situation today. He said: "The postmaster general has definitely set March 1 as the time when all dwellings must have either a door slot or a mail receptacle ready for the immediate receipt of the mail as the carrier arrives. The general public was given notice of this new ruling several months ago. Now, a final date has been decided on. It is up to patrons to act, if they expect to enjoy free delivery of mail."

"The postmasters have been notified that in case of those who refuse to act by March 1, to take their names and report the same to the post office department, and if they do not act then, delivery will be stopped."

"The post office department means business in this ruling. It is done to expedite the delivery of mail. There is no reason why anyone should decline to place receptacles or cut a slot in their doors."

"Of course, any patron who prefers to come to the office for his mail rather than to erect a box or a slot in the door will be permitted to do so."

J. C. HONOR ROLLS HEADED BY 5 BOYS

Are boys brighter than girls? Same old question. Here is one answer.

In the Santa Ana Junior College Honor society the percentages of scholarship standing have been made public and five boys head the list.

Although there are not even half as many boys in the junior college as there are girls the boys walked off with the five first places on the honor society membership roll.

Based on the number of quality points earned, the total number of points for each member in the society stand as follows: Carl Hagge, 51; Overton Lahr, 48; Elmore Squires, 45; Claude Hayward, 45; George Morton, 40; Stanley Wheelock, 39; Hazel Kinsel, 39; Persana Deimling, 37; Ruth Goodrich, 36; Velda Barnes, 34; Alla Neely, 34; Wilma Plavan, 33; Mary Clark, Leah Crane, 32; and Paul Read, 32.

Quality points are dependent on the grade received. A grade of "A" equals three points, a grade of "B" two points, and a grade of "C" one point.

Members of the Orange County Country club today were preparing to attend a meeting of the club to be held tomorrow evening at St. Ann's inn, when it is expected one of the most important steps in the history of the organization will be taken. The board of directors will present recommendations as to a definite site as a permanent home for the club.

It is expected that the membership will approve the recommendation and authorize action that will make the organization one of the best of its kind in Southern California and provide it with clubhouse and grounds second to none.

Committees have been working for months on plans for securing a site and the recommendation to be made by the directors is the result of the efforts of the committee.

Charles G. Twist, president of the club, pointed out that any one interested in the club will be welcome, regardless of having membership in the organization.

TUSTIN LEMON MEN PLAN POOLS CHANGE

Members of the Tustin Lemon association will discuss a change in the present pooling policy of the organization when they meet in annual session at the packing house at 2 p. m. March 13; Roy Runnels, secretary and manager, announced today.

The association is now operating on the two-pool plan and it is expected the number of pools will be increased during the next shipping season.

Runnels pointed out that many growers are of the opinion that better success will result from a larger number of pools.

BILL TO ALLOW CONDEMNATION IS RAPPED

Visitor Urges Defeat for Act Giving L. A. Right To Seize Utilities

"Shall the city of Los Angeles strangle the interior counties?" This question is asked by I. G. Lewis, of Riverside, who was in Santa Ana today taking preliminary steps to arouse Orange county residents and organizations to a realization of what he declares is a menace to all Southern California excepting Los Angeles.

Specifically, Lewis and a public welfare league which he represents and which has its greatest strength in Riverside and San Bernardino counties, are fighting what is known as the Lyon bill, Senate Bill No. 503.

It is declared that under the bill, if it becomes law, Los Angeles will have power to condemn power sites and power plants to a degree almost without limit.

Tells Menace
"Every municipality, excepting Los Angeles, and every power company will have its property placed in jeopardy," he said. "Los Angeles failed in its effort last year to condemn a site owned by the Southern Sierras Power company."

"Having failed in its attempt to establish in the courts, its claim of the right to condemn water and power properties now dedicated to and in the service of other cities and communities in California, Los Angeles now proposes to amend the laws of the state so as to enable it to do what the existing statutes prohibit, thus putting it in a position to carry out its program for the creation of a virtual monopoly of the power resources of California."

Broad in Scope
"The proposed amendment would enable the city of Los Angeles to condemn any water, irrigation or power rights owned by a private company, though actually dedicated to and used in the service of other cities, counties and communities anywhere in the state."

It is expected that Mayor S. C. Evans, of Riverside, will be in Santa Ana this week in furtherance of the fight against the Lyon bill.

It is understood that the matter will be taken up before the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county with the expectation that that body will pass resolutions against the measure.

TO PASS RESOLUTIONS ON EGAN DEATH, PLAN

Resolutions in relation to the death of Richard Egan, San Juan Capistrano pioneer, who died recently, will be passed at the meeting of the Orange County Historical society this evening at the Santa Ana public library.

Dr. C. D. Ball, president of the society, has appointed V. E. Stephenson, Santa Ana; W. T. Brown, Fullerton, and W. G. McPherson, McPherson, as a committee to draft the resolutions. Mr. W. B. Tedford, R. J. Blee and J. E. Pleasants have been appointed as a nominating committee to report Monday evening, at which time officers for the year will be elected.

Monday evening W. G. McPherson will read a paper on "Old Land Grants."

"The poor guys with a bunch of kids are different, though. They're so busy paying bills, they keep away from smiles. They know smiles cost money, and they're afraid of them."

Easy Prey.
"But the other fellows, the one's with their minds full of money and business, they don't get much amusement, so they grab it when it bumps into 'em."

"You drop some paper or a handkerchief in front of one of 'em, he returns it and first thing you know he's asking to take you out to lunch."

"But this bunch of fellows police say were my assistants, say they lacked finish. That's why we're here. They had to pull the rough stuff on this guy that squealed, or I could have got his dough without a yelp. Women don't need strong-arm methods and can get better results without. Just a smile or two is enough."

ALLEGED FAILURE TO TIE DOG BRINGS FINE

J. P. Williams, Crown stage driver, was fined $10 by City Recorder W. F. Heathman, for violation of the state dog quarantine. So far as was known, this was the second arrest as a result of the campaign to enforce the confinement law.

Williams had been warned several times by city officers, to keep his dog tied up on his property, they declared. Finally he was arrested and the dog was turned over to the pound keeper.

PLAN TICKET SALE FOR CHURCH MEET

Tickets for the dinner of the Federated Brotherhood of Santa Ana, consisting of fourteen evangelical churches of the city, to be given here March 23, will be placed on sale this week, according to a statement made by President J. R. Mayer here today.

At the same time, Mayer announced that the banquet will be given at the First Methodist church, here, and that covers will be laid for 350 guests. Tickets, which will be sold at 50 cents each, may be obtained at the Santa Ana Book Store and from the various church brotherhoods. It was expected tickets would be ready for distribution by Wednesday.

"As the number of covers will be limited," said Mayer, "it is advisable that those who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity to attend the banquet secure their tickets early."

The speaker of the evening will be James W. Foley, Pasadena versifier, who has appeared here on other occasions. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. Appropriate musical features probably will be arranged later.

MEN EASY TO FOOL SAYS GIRL LEADER OF BANDIT SHEIKS

WILMA McMULLIN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—A pretty face, an attractive smile and a quarter's worth of paint from the corner drug store and a girl "can get away with the Bank of England."

So says Wilma McMullin, in jail here on charges of being the lure and "come on" for a dapper sheik band which preyed upon wealthy old men.

And the reason why this recipe brings wealth is simply stated by Wilma, as follows:

"Because all men are bores." Pronouncedly of the flapper type, Wilma declares that, as far back as she can remember in her 19 years, she has got what she wanted just by smiling.

"That's all the pay a girl has to give—just a grin or two," she says. Split profits? No!

Chance taught her the monetary value of a smile. A dental cream manufacturer told her her smile as an ad for tooth paste should be worth much money.

If worth money to him, why not to her, without splitting the profits?

This thought got her into the game, from which she draws these conclusions:

"It's the old ones that flop hardest—you know the kind I mean, with more dough than they know what to do with. Single or married, it's all the same."

"The poor guys with a bunch of kids are different, though. They're so busy paying bills, they keep away from smiles. They know smiles cost money, and they're afraid of them."

Have Equal Incomes.
Both have been operating on about the same total income. Miss McMullin said the income of the Santa Ana library approximated $18,000. Miss Livingston had reports showing that in the fiscal year 1922, the Orange county free library was operated at an expense of $15,493. This sum would be exceeded by about $1,000 this year, she said.

These figures, the librarian declared, covered every library expense for the period quoted.

Library funds have been secured by a small tax. In Santa Ana, Miss McMullin said, the tax was 15 cents on $100. The county library is supported by a 2-cent tax, augmented by certain state funds, Miss Livingston said.

"Our effort is to give the greatest library service at the least expense," said the librarians, when they were asked how they managed to make book and reader meet at fifty cents a head, whereas the American Library association emphatically declares that no library should be expected to operate efficiently at less than $1 per capita.

Experiment Branch Success.
The experimental branch library opened by Miss McMullin at the Franklin school has proved an immediate success, she said.

"Mrs. Harry Brown is my assistant in charge at the Franklin school branch of the library," she said. "Mrs. Brown's reports indicate that the branch will have a circulation of 1200 in its first month, which still has three days to run."

"The branch has been open three days of each week. I considered it best to begin on a small scale and grow, rather than to have to re-train."

"At the present circulation rate, we undoubtedly will be compelled to remain open at least five days each week."

"There still is much territory we want to cover with the county free library," she said. "Whenever opportunity presents we open a new branch."

BEACH FOLK TO CAST BALLOTS ON $300,000 BOND ISSUE TOMORROW

Fate of Big Pave Program for Ocean Avenue In Hands of Voters

POLLING PLACES TOLD

Success of Projects Would Make Thoroughfare One of County's Best

Prepared to take another progressive step in the plan to place Huntington Beach in the forefront of Southern California municipalities, voters of the thriving old city tomorrow will go to the polls in active support of a $300,000 bond issue.

Tomorrow's election, called by the board of trustees for the purpose of making substantial and necessary improvements, will, if favorable to the bond issue, result in the paving of Ocean avenue for a distance of more than two miles and the installation of an ornamental lighting system.

Pave Avenue One Mile.
According to tentative plans, Ocean avenue beautiful thoroughfare paralleling the Pacific, will be paved for one mile at a width of eighty feet, giving the city one of the broadest driveways in the county. The remaining mile or more will be paved at a width of twenty feet.

In addition, if the issue is endorsed by the voters, street improvements affecting Seventeenth street and Delaware avenue will be made within the near future. Ocean avenue would be paved from the west city limits to First street.

Polls Open at 6 a. m.
Polling places, which will open at 6 a. m., and close at 7 p. m., will be situated in the city hall and at the Methodist church, Eleventh street and Orange avenue.

"These improvements," said L. F. Gates, street superintendent, "are badly needed, and there seems to be every reason to feel that the voters will endorse the bond issue tomorrow. Paving of Ocean avenue and the installation of ornamental lights will go far toward placing the city in the forefront in the march of progress."

TERRY NAMED HEAD OF FOOTHILL, INC.

At the annual meeting of the Foothill Valencia Growers, Inc., the following members were elected: Henry Terry, Herman Kolberg, G. W. Struck, C. D. Holmes, V. A. Rossiter, F. E. Maurehan and J. D. Spennetta.

Following the annual meeting the board elected Henry Terry as president, Herman Kolberg, vice president and J. D. Spennetta secretary and manager.

The association has purchased its own packing house and will operate on a co-operative basis, marketing through the Orange County Fruit Growers exchange.

HEALTH TALK NO. 18
By J. G. Kelly, D. C.

Nerve fibers begin in the brain, pass through the spinal cord, and end in the various organs and tissue which they feed.

Cut a nerve trunk, and the part severed becomes dead. This is proof that some kind of power passes over that nerve and is necessary for the part fed to work properly. Chiropractors call that power NERVE FORCE.

When this nerve force is transmitted over the nerve unimpeded there is perfect health in the organ supplied. Any obstruction to the passage of this nerve force results in disease in the organ supplied.

If you are sick, you may be sure there is an obstruction to the flow of the life giving nerve force. And you may feel equally sure that your return to health will depend on just one thing, namely, removal of the obstruction, permitting a restoration of the normal flow of nerve force.

Let me explain to you how the misalignment of small bones of the spine may cause a mechanical obstruction to the flow of nerve current and how I as a Chiropractor, can remove this obstruction, allowing the natural life forces within you to restore you to health. You will then understand why Chiropractic is acknowledged to be the better way to health.

EXPECT 300 AT BIG HARDWARE MEN'S MEET

Eager to hear addresses by President Huron E. Reeve and other prominent speakers, fully 300 merchants and members of their families will flock to Fullerton tomorrow and Wednesday for the purpose of attending the sessions of the Southern California Retail Hardware association. The convention will be held at the California hotel.

Opening Tuesday at 10 a. m., the annual convention, which will attract merchants from all sections of the Southland, will be featured by musical programs, banquets and other special numbers.

President to Speak.
The convention will be called to order by President Reeve, followed by the Rev. T. H. Walker, who will deliver the invocation. During the forenoon the president's annual address will be delivered and reports will be received from the secretary and the treasurer.

Sales building, in connection with credits and collections, will be discussed during the question box hour. This will be followed by the naming of the respective committees. Following the noon adjournment, the convention will reassemble at the California hotel at 1:30 p. m.

During the afternoon addresses will be delivered by H. P. Sheets, secretary of the National Retail Hardware association; George M. Gray, secretary of the Ohio Mutual Hardware Insurance company, and a number of others. In the evening a banquet and entertainment will be staged at the Masonic temple.

To Tell Trade Progress.
On Wednesday the program will be opened at 10 a. m., by H. E. Reeve and will be featured by an address by H. P. Sheets, who will discuss "The Hardware Association and Trade Progress."

The question box hour will be devoted to a discussion of "What Is Profit?—and How to Make It." At the afternoon session, L. S. Soule, editor of Hardware Age, will discuss "Tuning in on the New Business Era." W. E. Coleman is scheduled to deliver an address on "The How and Why of Window Trimming."

CHINESE TEA HELD.
Orange, Feb. 26.—A breath of China was transplanted to the Orange Women's clubrooms, as scores of club women and friends from surrounding communities assembled here this afternoon for the Chinese benefit tea given by the club for the purpose of raising funds with which to finance erection of a new clubhouse. The benefit netted a goodly sum, helping swell the clubhouse fund, which, before the end of the year, is expected to result in the erection of a modern clubhouse. Phone 237 for good Dairy products.

MUSIC CLUBS TO MEET HERE IN APRIL

convention is to coincide with spring vacation week in many of the schools throughout the state, it is hoped that numerous music supervisors will be in attendance for the public school music demonstration, which is to be strongly featured.

Gustlin added that a most attractive program of church music is being arranged for Friday afternoon, April 6.

"This program will also comprise works by California writers," said Gustlin. "Mrs. Grace Widney Mabey, national and state chairman, is working tirelessly with Mrs. Birmingham and Henry Bretherick to insure an adequate representation of this valuable department."

Noted Artists to Play.
"One of the rare features of the convention will be the chamber music program of the Pioneers string quartette, by courtesy of the Santa Ana Musical association, this constituting the fourth number of this organization's season's course. Some new American work will be featured."

Through the courtesy of W. A. Clark, Jr., Gustlin said an invitation has been extended to the concert of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra in Los Angeles Saturday evening, April 7. Mrs. Caroline E. Smith, manager of the orchestra, and Mrs. Edith Wing Hughes, Los Angeles hospitality chairman, will co-operate in other plans which are in prospect for the entertainment of convention visitors.

Heading the convention executive board are members of the Santa Ana Musical association board and those of the Orange County Choral union board. On the former board are:

Here's Convention Board.
Clarence Gustlin, president; Mrs. Ella Campau, vice-president; T. H. Warne, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Snow, Miss Charlotte Dresser, Miss Lella Ritner and Jesse Albright.

The Choral union board includes: A. H. Taylor, president; Miss Edith Cornell, vice-president; Charles Wollaston, secretary; J. A. Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Landers Hummel, Miss Marjorie Warner and O. W. Householder.

Committee chairmen announced by Gustlin include: Executive chairman and secretary, Clarence Gustlin; treasurer, T. H. Warne; hotels and reservations, Miss Lulu Minter; general information, Mrs. Walter F. Gustlin; publicity, Mac O. Robbins; hospitality, Mrs. Charles F. Smith; banquet, Mrs. Ella Campau; decoration, Mrs. John Wehrly; platform, Ernest C. Phillips; ushers, Mrs. Arnold Peck; baggers, Miss Edith Cornell; special exhibit, Miss Marjorie Warner; program cover design, Mrs. H. G. Rider, and program advertising, F. C. Rowland.

Finance committee includes the convention executive board, assisted by A. J. Crookshank, J. P. Baumgartner, Robert L. Brown, Raymond Miles and Fred Rafferty.

Los Angeles honorary hospitality committee includes Mrs. Cecil Frankel, Mrs. Caroline E. Smith and W. A. Clark, Jr.

St. Ann's Inn will be official headquarters.

AFTERNOON TEA.

PLACENTIA, Feb. 26.—The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pierotti, on north Bradford avenue, was the scene of a pretty event Thursday, when Mrs. Pierotti gave an afternoon tea in honor of Mrs. M. M. Stocker, who, with her husband, leaves in ten days for their home in Vermont after spending the winter with Mrs. Stocker's sisters, Mrs. W. M. Blackmer, Mrs. Ada Sturdevant, and her brother, J. D. Sturdevant, on Kraemer avenue.

The afternoon was spent in sewing. The rooms were decorated with bowls of pink roses and sweet peas. The dining room decorations were in yellow and here the guests were ushered in the late afternoon for a social cup of tea and salad and ices. The guests were Mrs. Margaret Strain, Mrs. Eliza Payton, Mrs. Charles E. Fuller, Mrs. Frank Dowling, Mrs. S. W. McCulloch, Mrs. C. M. Montgomery, Miss Cuff, Mrs. Mary Sumwalt, Miss Ada Sturdevant, Mrs. W. W. Blackmer, Mrs. Charles Cuff and Mrs. M. M. Stocker, the honoree and the hostess, Mrs. A. Pierotti.

ANAHEIM PIONEER DIES

ANAHEIM, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Amelia Frohling, the last survivor of the Los Angeles Vineyard company which in 1856 settled the colony which grew into the city of Anaheim, died at her home here yesterday afternoon. She was 84 years of age and had lived in Anaheim sixty-four years. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Alma Pellegrin, and by two sons, John C. Eyemann of this city and W. C. Eyemann of Maywood.

REGISTRATIONS DEADLINE ON AUTOS NEARS

California motorists must step on the gas in making their 1923 registrations if they desire to renew before a penalty of 25 per cent is added to their registration fee, according to a statement issued today from the headquarters of the division of motor vehicles at Sacramento by Will H. Marsh, chief of the division.

Figures compiled from Sacramento and the branch offices of the department show that approximately 500,000 automobile registrations have been made thus far this year. Total registration of automobiles for 1922 shows $22,394 to have been issued. This would indicate that more than 300,000 automobilists would have to register within the next five days or suffer the penalty to be added.

To accommodate the motoring public, the Sacramento office and each of the branches located at San Francisco, Oakland, Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego will be kept open during the first five days of the week, including March 2, until 5:30 o'clock each evening.

Police officials of the state are being notified that enforcement of the registration provisions of

WHITSELL TO TAKE POST ON TOMORROW

Leon O. Whitsell, of Villa Park, appointed by Governor Friend W. Richardson to the board of supervisors to succeed N. T. Edwards, who resigned to accept appointment by the Governor to the state highway commission, expected today to furnish his bond and qualify in time to sit with the board at its meeting tomorrow.

Whitsell Saturday accompanied Edwards on a trip over the district to acquaint himself with road and other conditions.

OFF TO CONVENTION

FULLERTON, Feb. 26.—G. A. Reymer, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, left Fullerton Sunday for Santa Cruz, where he will attend the three-day convention of the California Commercial Secretaries' association. Elaborate plans have been made by the representative of the Fullerton organization to obtain the convention for 1924 for Fullerton.

the law should be begun within a few days following March 2.

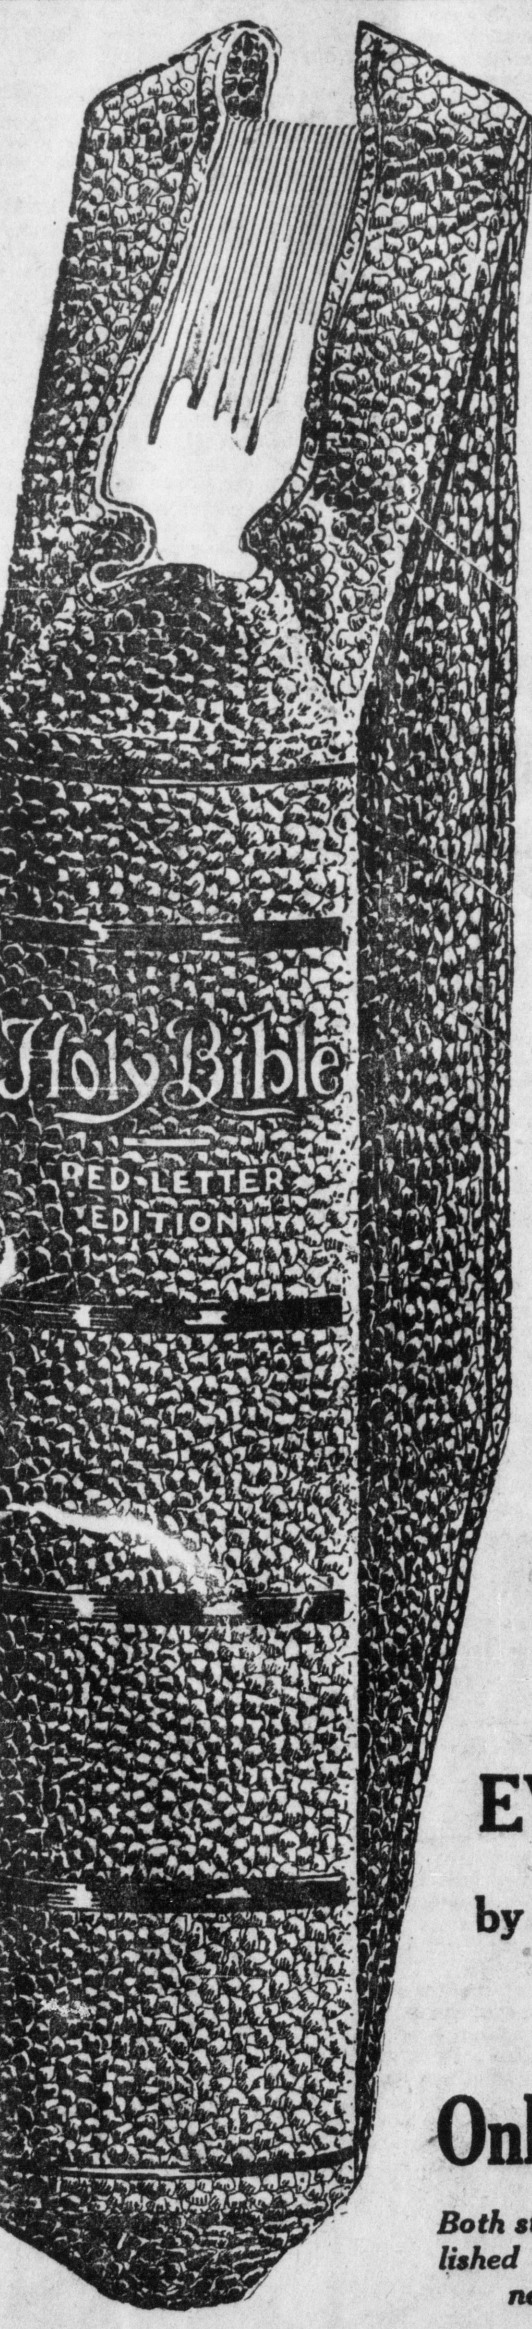

The department has a large force of clerks at the Sacramento and branch offices and thus far has been able to handle all applications as rapidly as they have come to the offices. There will be no delays and if the motorist does not have his license plate at the end of the registration period, the fault will be his.

The Santa Ana Daily Register's Bible Distribution

Following the most distressing period of unrest the world has ever known, comes a world-wide revival of Bible reading, which must tend to ameliorate the unrestful conditions of mankind. To encourage such an end, leading newspapers throughout this country have joined forces to promote the distribution of the great Book of Books, and have adopted a plan that should readily place the Bible in the hands of every reader. Two exclusive editions have been chosen for this purpose—first, the famous large print Red Letter Bible, illustrated herein, and a beautiful plain print, medium large type edition that will be distributed for a nominal sum.

The Question of the Universe

This Bible—this miraculous Bible—this Book of All Books—luminous with the light that dwelleth not on land or sea—this noblest and most beautiful Thing in all the world—what is it—whence cometh it—what means it?

It has made and unmade Nations. It has uprooted Kingdoms and Empires. It has diverted the mighty tides of History. It has crumpled ancient Faiths and Superstitions. Because of it fell Pagan Rome. The antique Systems of India and the Far East have bowed their heads to its enlightened sway.

China and the Orient now first awaken from their sleep of thrice a thousand years, and follow their sister nations of the Occident—whose feet are guided by one sole lamp—the sacred flame of which was kindled by the inspired Hebrew Prophets, and fed for all time by the Lord and Master of the Golden Rule.

Only ignorance scoffs at the Bible! The greatest rulers—the greatest statesmen—the greatest scholars—writers—orators—scientists—soldiers—and the untold millions of the Common People, whose collective genius outweighs them all—have thrilled to its Divine Wisdom.

Its lyrics of unfathomable tenderness—its orations of compelling potency—its contemplative prose of preternatural grandeur—have never been equalled. Its emotional depths and its intellectual heights make it the one and only Book of Books, vouchsafed for the guidance of mankind throughout the ages.

SCARAMOUCHE

By RAFAEL SABATINI.

Early in the morning they were awakened by a din of bells—the tocsins of the sections ringing the alarm. To their startled ears came later the rolling of drums, and at one time they heard the sounds of a multitude on the march. Paris was rising.

The two women at the Hotel Plougastel still waited for the return of Rougane, though now with ever-lessening hope. And Rougane did not return. The affair did not appear so simple to the father as to the son. Rougane the elder was rightly afraid to lend himself to such a piece of deception.

Late that night, as M. de Kercaidiou sat gloomily in his brother's library, the pipe in which he had sought solace extinguished between his fingers, there came a sharp knocking at the door.

A slim young man in a dark olive suit stood at the threshold. He wore boots, buckskins, and a small sword, and round his waist there was a tri-color sash, in his a hat a tri-color cockade.

M. de Kercaidiou, startled in such an hour by this sudden apparition, greeted Andre-Louis in terms almost identical with those in which in that same room he had greeted him on a similar occasion once before.

"What do you want here, sir?" "I am a representative. I have certain powers. I am very opposite returning to Paris. Can I serve you where Rougane cannot? Alene should be placed in safety at once."

M. de Kercaidiou surrendered unconditionally. He came over and took Andre-Louis' hand.

Andre-Louis continued. "About Alene," he asked. And himself answered his own question: She must be brought out of Paris at once, before the place becomes a shambles. Young Rougane's plan is good."

"But Rougane the elder will not hear of it."

"You mean that he will not do it for his own responsibility. But he has consented to do it on mine. I have left him a note over my signature to the effect that a safe conduct for Mlle. de Kercaidiou to Paris and return is issued by him in compliance with orders from me."

M. de Kercaidiou took the sheet of paper that Andre-Louis held out. "If you send that to Paris," said Andre-Louis, "Alene should be here by noon. If there is any other way in which I can serve you, you have but to name it whilst I am here."

"But there is, Andre. Did not Rougane tell you that there were others..."

He mentioned Mme. de Plougastel and her servant.

"Then why...?" M. de Kercaidiou broke off, looking his question.

Very solemnly Andre-Louis shook his head.

"That is impossible," he said.

M. de Kercaidiou's mouth fell open in astonishment. "Impossible!" he repeated. "But why?"

"Monsieur, I can do what I am doing for Alene without offending my conscience. But Mme. de Plougastel is in a very different case. Neither Alene nor any of her friends have been concerned in counter-revolutionary work. But Mme. de Plougastel is the wife of M. le Comte de Plougastel, whom all the world knows to be an agent between the Court and the emigrants."

"You must take the risk."

"I must!" he echoed. "Why must I? Your reasons, monsieur?"

"I violate my words of honor, my oath if I tell you. M. de Kercaidiou turned away, wringing his hands, his condition visibly pitiable."

"But in this extremity, in this desperate extremity, and since you so ungenerously insist, I shall have to tell you. God help me, I have no choice. She will realize that when she knows. Andre, my boy..."

He paused again, a man afraid. He set a hand on his godson's shoulder, and to his increasing amazement Andre-Louis' first impulse was to cry out. But he possessed himself, and played the Stoic. He must ever be playing something.

"I see," he said, at last, quite coolly.

His mind was sweeping back over the past. Swiftly he reviewed his memories of Mme. de Plougastel.

"I see," he said again; and added now, "Of course, any but a fool would have guessed it long ago."

He sat down abruptly, to conceal the too-revealing fact that his limbs were shaking. He pulled a handkerchief from his pocket to mop his brow, which had grown damp. And then, quite suddenly, he found himself weeping.

At the sight of those tears streaming silently down that face that had turned so pale, M. de Kercaidiou came quickly across to him. He sat down beside him and threw an arm affectionately over his shoulder.

"Andre, my poor lad," he murmured. "I... I was fool enough to think you had no heart."

"It is nothing, monsieur. I am tired out, and... and I have a cold in the head. And then, finding the part beyond his power, he abruptly threw it up, utterly abandoned all pretence. "Why... why have there been all this mystery?" he asked. "Was it intended that I should never know?"

"The reason, my boy, is that you were born some three years after your mother's marriage with M. de Plougastel, some eighteen months after M. de Plougastel had been away with the army, and some four months before his return to his wife. It is a matter that M. de Plougastel has never suspected, and for grave reasons that reasons must never suspect. That is why the utmost secrecy has been preserved. That is why none was ever allowed to know. Your mother came betimes into Brit-tany, and under an assumed name spent some months in the village of Moreau. It was while she was there that you were born."

"Then, who was my father?"

"I don't know. She never told me. It was her secret, and I did not pry. It is not in my nature, Andre."

"And now, what will you do, Andre?" he asked. "Now that you know?"

"What difference should the knowledge make? Is filial pity to be called into existence by the mere announcement of relationship?"

"The decision is with you, Andre."

"Nay, it is beyond me. Decide it who can, I cannot."

"You mean that you refuse even now?"

"I mean that I consent. Since I cannot decide what it is that I should do, it only remains for me to do what a son should. It is grotesque."

CHAPTER XI

Into the late afternoon of that endless day of horror with its perpetual alarms, its volleying musketry, rolling drums, and distant muttering of angry multitudes, Mme. de Plougastel and Alene sat waiting in that handsome house in the Rue du Paradis. It was no longer for Rougane they waited. They waited for whatever might betide.

Suddenly Madame's young footman, Jacques, the most trusted of her servants, burst into their presence unceremoniously with a scared face, bringing the announcement that a man who had just climbed over the garden wall professed himself a friend of Madame's, and desired to be brought immediately to her presence.

"Bring him in," she commanded breathlessly.

Jacques went out, to return presently accompanied by a tall man in a long, shabby overcoat and a wide-brimmed hat that was turned down all round, and adorned by an enormous tri-color cockade.

This hat he removed as he entered.

The young footman wondered what it was in the man's face, which was turned from him, that should cause his mistress to cry out and recoil. Then he found himself dismissed abruptly by a gesture.

The newcomer advanced to the middle of the salon, moving like a man exhausted and breathing hard, across which he leaned against a table, across which he confronted Mme. de Plougastel. And she, stood regarding him, a strange horror in her eyes.

LAGUNA ARTISTS ARE RETURNING TO TOWN; CAPISTRANO FAVORITE

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 16.—San Juan Capistrano is a favorite painting place of the Laguna artists. The picturesque old mission and the surrounding hills and canyons afford much material for pictures.

William Wendt has just returned from the month down there. He finds the country particularly adaptable to his style of work.

Joseph Kleitsch and Robert Fullerton have also returned to their Laguna studios from Capistrano.

Miss Julia Raymond is in Ontario for a week's painting. She is building a garage at her Arch Beach studio.

Miss Aliva V. Fullerton is back from Los Angeles.

The Misses Hill are also back in Laguna from Whittier, and Conway Griffith is home again from his four days in Los Angeles.

Laguna's artists may wander during the winter months, but spring finds them gathering together again in "Our Village."

Albert E. Tanberg attended the reception at the Franklin Galleries in Hollywood that opened the spring exhibit of the West Coast Arts, Inc.

Mr. Tanberg says the exhibition is the best the club has ever held.

The West Coast Arts, Inc., is a woman's art club, started here in Laguna some two or three years ago by Mrs. Ella Hotaling Tanberg.

It started with a very small membership of local and Southern California woman painters and sculptors, but has grown amazingly and now numbers among its members women artists from all over the world.

Mrs. Tanberg is still in Hollywood, but will doubtless return soon to her studio in Laguna Beach.

SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 26.—The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday afternoon at the manse, it being the time for the annual election of officers the same ones were elected to succeed themselves.

They were, Mrs. F. J. Grandy, president; Mrs. J. H. Walton, vice-president; Mrs. Samuel Dickey, secretary; Mrs. G. E. Francis, treasurer; Mrs. W. T. Wardle, secretary of literature.

The amount of the November praise-service offering to be over $55, making the total contributions for the year to be $118.

The subject for the time was Korea foreign, and the Indians for the home subject. The time was devoted to the former.

A number of brass utensils sent from Korea by Roy M. Byram, M. D., were on exhibition. They were a ricebowl with cover, a bowl for hot water, a brass spoon and chopsticks, another covered bowl, and a sweet-toned bell with a thin brass fish attached to the four pronged clapper. The bells are hung in pairs at the corner of Korean houses. The wind blowing the fish rings the bells and is supposed to keep away the evil spirits.

Pictures taken by the Byram family were also on hand and some extracts from the letters read.

The indoor baseball team of the school played with the Seal Beach team on Monday winning with a score of 23 to 17. Westminster also won the basketball game the same afternoon.

INCORPORATION OF BEACH IS UNDECIDED

BY PRISCILLA EVANS
LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 26.—

At the mass meeting, called by the Chamber of Commerce, is was very apparent that "Our Village" is suffering severe growing pains, which her citizens propose to alleviate. Her needs are many and they were discussed, pro and con, at great length, at the meeting held in the New Lynn theatre, which was filled to overflowing by those interested in the future development of Laguna.

Needs Listed

The most pressing needs at present are: a sewer, sidewalks, paved streets, police and fire protection, and a regular telephone line to take the place of the inadequate one now in use.

Before the general discussion took place, the motion picture of Laguna Beach, produced by the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, filmed by Cochem of Santa Ana, and subtitled by Leo Way, was shown and received much applause, especially when the artists were shown at work along the shore and on the rocks. The Laguna picture was followed by a comedy which put the assembly into a pleasant mood for the business of the evening.

Elmer E. Jahraus opened the meeting with a few words of explanation and asked that a chairman be nominated, refusing to act himself. E. M. DeAhna was nominated, with Frank Hanson for secretary. Mr. Hanson was not present, so Miss Borghild Leren was nominated in his place. Mr. DeAhna called the meeting to order and spoke briefly on the necessity of a sewer and other improvements, saying: "Some think incorporation the only way to obtain these things, while others are opposed to making Laguna a municipality."

Dr. R. F. Gowdy, of the state board of health, spoke on the sanitary conditions of Laguna and the need of a sewer, which could be installed for approximately $75,000 and would last forty years.

Mr. DeAhna then introduced Attorney John Harvey of Santa Ana. Mr. Harvey said that if Laguna was incorporated it would be a city of the sixth class. He said that, according to the laws of incorporation of the state, Laguna could incorporate now, and when the coast highway is put through, if the state is disinclined to pay for the road through the town, it can disincorporate until the road is put through and then incorporate again. The state highway commission considers the coast road very important to relieve the congestion on the present highways and for a military road, and it will be put through without doubt, in a very short time, he said.

Dr. Mitchell gave a short talk on the sanitary conditions of Laguna, also, and said that a sewer was most essential to the health of the community.

Joe Skidmore was the next speaker. He said: "I am going to talk about myself a bit. I am carrying out an ideal, here in Laguna, the ideal of my stepfather, L. N. Brooks, lovingly known as 'Nate.' He is the man who unplanned your water system; he is the man who, gifted with pre-science, could look into the future and see a wonderful city for Laguna Beach, of buildings, galleries, parks and developments. It is the law of civilization that a town or group of individuals must progress or regress. We must carry on, improve and become one of the finest places in the world or else we must remain as we are. The primary reason for this is because of our aesthetic conditions and the fact that we are visited by the people of the world who will certainly demand from us the things that they see and enjoy in other resorts."

"The question of incorporation is one that concerns Laguna Beach and each and every one of us. It is no time to deal in personal equations. Let us be big and broad and consider this matter from every point of view."

"Laguna Beach has 4000 units of land, or lots, that could be included in an incorporation. If the town bonded itself for $1,000,000 for improvement, on a basis of forty year bonds, the tax on each lot would be $6.50 per lot per year for forty years and the $6.50 per lot per year would pay the $1,000,000 bond issue, both principal and interest, with a margin for incidental expenses. Mr. Harvey has assured you that while we can secure a sewer under the Sanitary District act, there is a serious question about the legality of the act and the validity and chances of selling the subsequent bonds. We have put off doing something for five years on account of the proposed coast boulevard. We cannot be diverted from our purpose any longer. We must do the things that the world demands of us, so that we may hold up our head and have the things that other towns have and enjoy."

Could Evade Payment

"We have been assured by legal advice that we can easily evade paying for the coast boulevard, after we are incorporated, when the state finally decides to build the same. A very practical plan has been outlined by Mr. Harvey, tonight, which shows how we could disincorporate in the event that the state insisted on our paying for the road. La-

SEAL BEACH MARKET LEASED TO FEDERAL MARKET, LONG BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 26.—The store and fixtures of the Finley and Snow grocery were leased this week to the Federal grocery. One of the Daley stores and markets will be put in at Seal Beach. A rush trade greeted the retiring grocers Saturday morning and the goods on hand were soon disposed of. Seal Beach regrets to lose Mr. Snow as a business man and hopes it is not losing him from the town.

Mrs. George Graehl, a sister of Mrs. Knudson, is expected from San Francisco on Monday. The sisters have not met for a year and are looking forward to a happy time together. Little Miss Virginia will accompany her mother.

Mrs. A. N. Smalley came to Seal Beach to shop on Thursday. The Smalleys are spending some time in Sunset Beach after touring Colorado. They are still looking for a place to locate permanently.

TEMPERANCE MEDAL CONTEST

PLACENTIA, Feb. 26.—The members of the Loyal Temperance Legion had an interesting time at the grammar school Friday afternoon, when they put on a Temperance Medal contest. There were four contestants, all boys, and Lem Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lem Green, won the silver medal. The grammar school orchestra gave several selections. The children sang songs under the direction of Miss Ruth Howerton. There was a talk by Mrs. Adella Howerton, who is superintendent of the work.

The school auditorium was well filled. Each boy was given a box of candy at the close.

BUYS FRUIT STAND

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 26.—H. Bush has sold out his fruit stand at Midway Corners to the Martin brothers of Santa Ana, who have taken possession.

BARBER SHOP SOLD

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 26.—The Westminster barber has sold out to a man from Stanton, who will move here as soon as his wife, who is ill, is sufficiently recovered. The lot is 26x100 feet and the consideration is understood to be around $1600.

gun Beach, "the different beach" that will be visited and admired by the people of the world, needs, besides a sewer, graded streets, proper school facilities, sidewalks, ordinances, street lights, police and fire protection, life guards along our shoreline, regulation of traffic, wharf, parks, trees and protection of certain aesthetic conditions, art galleries. (In this connection all we need is a fine gallery to be the recognized art center of the world), rest rooms along our shoreline, the removal of our renowned slough and other disgraceful conditions. Our contours are rugged; drainage problems must be solved and many other things that will be possible only under a municipal-

Urges Harmony

Elmer E. Jahraus was the next speaker and urged that all work in harmony. "This would be a good place to live in, if all were as broad minded as we think we are. Say, listen friends, we cannot expect Laguna to take the position of other beach cities unless people work together. Let's all push for Laguna's good."

Ray W. Brooks followed saying: "Here are a few reasons why I am in favor of incorporation. It seems the only way we can get proper police and fire protection, street improvements, building restrictions, improving of public parks, building of more public rest rooms, which are badly needed; laws that can protect the public from animals of any kind that run loose destroying lawns, gardens and trees. It has been said that taxes will be raised. Of course they will. Can a closed hand receive? I have never put a dollar in any public improvement in Laguna Beach but what I have received several in return. Remember, it is the open hand that receives, not the closed one."

Conkey Opposes

Mr. Conkey represented the opposition, saying in part: "I am for incorporation, but not at this time. The outlook for the highway is very good. Quoting statement made at meeting of High-ways commission in Los Angeles (on February 17) I am a follower of Jahraus and Skidmore, who have done more for the town than any other two, ten or a hundred. I understand that Tustin is not incorporated and it is a good lively little town and gets along pretty well."

Mr. Hoffer was the last speaker. "We need a sewer, but other things we need more. The coast road is a big bugaboo of property owners. What about the park? Is it auto park? All it seems to be is a place for picnickers to throw papers on. It could be beautified into a real park. A fire department is the most essential need of Laguna."

There was much animated talk outside of the theater after the meeting adjourned. One person was heard to say that "With all the talk of water systems, no mention is ever made of the old Yonch system, that for years supplied water free to everyone who cared to use it. Campers from all along the coast were welcome to come and take away as much as they wanted, at any time."

Joe Skidmore says that this meeting is the first of many that will be held to discuss the question of incorporation.

OIL PRODUCTION REVIEW FOR WEEK GIVEN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 26.—Reliable oil men in discussing the production of this field say that if facilities were at hand for delivering the oil, production would mount to over 200,000 barrels daily.

Records were again shattered last week when the Selby and Root well, Clark No. 2, ran up a production of 5300 barrels daily. The well average for the field has also made a slight advance, jumping from 604 to 619 barrels.

Production of the field has also made a gain, rising from 123,871 to 130,076 barrels this week, which makes a new high increase of 6,205 barrels daily. The value of the product is $91,063. The highest gravity for the field is thirty-one and the lowest is thirteen, making an average from 210 producing wells of 22.3.

There are 438 wells being drilled by eighty-eight companies, 107 of which are uncompleted and 115 are drilling. Only five wells have been abandoned.

SEES COUSINS AGAIN

ORANGE, Feb. 26.—Mrs. M. O. Ainsworth had a happy Friday with cousins whom she had not seen since she was thirteen years of age, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Loizeaux of Plainsfield, N. J., who are visiting a daughter in Los Angeles. They were dinner guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Ainsworth. Mr. Loizeaux has extensive lumber interests.

TO SPEAK ON KFAW

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 26.—Sam R. Bowen, of the S. R. Bowen company will tell the radio fans of the southland and as far as KFAW, the Santa Ana Register radio, will reach, of the glories of this city, it was decided at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this week when a communication from the paper was read asking that a speaker be designated for the purpose.

FUNERAL OF ANAHEIM YOUNG WOMAN TO BE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

ANAHEIM, Feb. 26.—Funeral services will be held Thursday from the Huddle funeral parlors, this city, at 2 o'clock for Miss Margaret Billig, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Billig, of Anaheim. Miss Billig died last week in Redlands. Rev. Cole Wellman, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church, Anaheim, will officiate. Interment will be in Anaheim cemetery.

Miss Billig's death was said to have been due to burns which she received last week at Huntington Park, when a Southern Pacific steam car was destroyed by flames. The steam car collided with a gasoline truck. A Southern Pacific employee was burned to death.

Miss Billig was born in Grand Junction, Colo., but has lived in this state for fifteen years. She was educated in Anaheim and graduated from the local union high school with the class of 1920. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, the Court of Angels, the Daughters of Veterans and the White Temple Methodist church.

One brother, Ellsworth Billig, resides in Anaheim.

LOWER ANAHEIM BRIDGE

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 26.—State Highway Commissioners Everding and Edwards, Chief Engineer Morton, Patch Cortelyou, assistant engineer, County Supervisor T. B. Talbert and County Engineer McBride came through Seal Beach on a trip of inspection of the new highway, following the road from Sunset Beach to Naples. The mistakes in grading were noted and everything possible will be done to rectify them. The ditch on North street will be filled to prevent stagnant water from collecting. Application will be made to the Navy department by the commission for permission to lower the proposed bridge over Anaheim Bay five feet, making the structure eight feet above high tide.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 26.—W. I. Clapp and son have bought from Carroll C. Gates, E. J. Gates and Florence G. Baldwin thirty lots on Thirteenth, Fourteenth and other streets near the ocean. The average price was said to be $1500.

BREA WOMEN GO TO WHITTIER MEETING

BREA, Feb. 26.—The Coterie Calendar of the Congregational church spent a delightful afternoon Wednesday, Feb. 21, at the home of Mrs. Pettit, 3267 Washington street, Whittier.

Mrs. Pettit was a former resident of Brea. The meeting opened by singing "America," after which a short business session followed, presided over by Mrs. H. R. Williams.

The afternoon was spent in playing games. Cake, tea and sandwiches were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames Smith, Pettit, of Brea; Henegan and Smith. Those attending from Brea were Mesdames Dulong, Henegan, Smith, Pettit, McIntyre, Peterkin, Smith, Woodward, Bennett, Miller, Rowe, Reed, Whittier, Sechrist.

The Lions' club had a jolly time at their regular Tuesday luncheon in Craig's hall. Patriotic songs were sung and a George Washington birthday cake was an attractive feature. The favors were little red, white and blue hatchets, made and presented by the kindergarten. The Lions did full justice to the "big feed" served by the Pythian Sisters.

Little Mary Etta Wilson, the two year old daughter of William Wilson and wife of Anaheim, formerly living in Brea, died at the family home last Sunday, after a short illness, taking sick Friday with pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the McAuley Chapel and interment in Loma Vista cemetery.

Miss Egeberg, a Pasadena traveler, spent Washington's birthday with the kindergarten teachers, Misses Dodson and Norris.

Mrs. Williams of Los Angeles is here visiting her son on Cedar street, who has been quite ill, but is now much improved.

After the business was over, Mrs. Charles Harvey took charge of the program. A reading on the founding of P.T.A. by Mrs. Theodora Binney of Washington and Phoebe Hearst of California and the early work in California, also some of the things accomplished, was given by Mrs. Harvey. Mrs. Burns followed this with a beautiful solo, accompanied by Mrs. George Henegan. A piano solo by

BOAT BUILDING NOW ENGAGING ATTENTION OF BALBOA WORKMEN

BALBOA, Feb. 26.—Despite the fact that Balboa is just emerging from those lean months which must necessarily come to a community which is largely seasonal in its character, there is one industry which seems to be unimpaired by the coming and passing of the so-called dull season. While boat building in Balboa is not carried on to the tune of steam whistles, which cause the passerby to pause in apprehension lest some loyal union man crush his foot with the beam he might be lifting at the moment the whistle blew, as the old story goes, considerable boat building is going on in Balboa, nevertheless.

Perhaps the most interesting job under construction in local shops is the sailing vessel now being framed at Frank Fordham's plant. This boat is being built for B. C. Huber, a newcomer to Balboa, who was quick to realize the prospects offered by this community for a sailing craft which could take a sized party out for an interesting but without non-hazardous sailing trip.

Miss Schawbe was delightfully given. A social hour was enjoyed, games furnishing the amusement, directed by Mrs. J. H. Schweitzer. At the close cake and tea were served.

A large number of mothers and teachers assembled at the Laurel street school Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 20 in honor of "Founders' Day," the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Parent-Teacher association. The president being absent on account of illness, Mrs. Fred Salverson presided. The meeting was opened by singing "America," followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Then the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung. A short business session was held.

Mr. Schlusinger kindly offered the use of the Red Lantern theater any afternoon during wild flower week in March for the presentation of the wild flower film to be shown throughout Orange county. Committees were appointed for advertising. All committees reporting showed good work is being accomplished. The kindergarten room won the prize for the largest number of mothers present.

A breakfast Cereal for Children on the go and grow

Children are bodies in the building—bodies on the go and grow. Their food must do two things: give them energy to "go" on and strength to "grow" on.

Germea does both—because it contains the germ, the vital part, the very life of the wheat. It is this "germ" that makes the wheat sprout and come to life. It is this life-energy in Germea that makes children thrive on it. In fact, Germea gives your children five times as much life-energy as the whole of the wheat. That's why it is doubly important to their health.

Say Germea to your grocer—and be satisfied with nothing less! Ask your grocer also for Encore Panake Flour and other members of the Sperry (Red Package) Cereal Family.

A stationary cog-wheel had another wheel moving about it. Both wheels were of exactly the same size. How many times would the moving cog-wheel turn in making its circuit about the stationary wheel?

Yesterday's answer:

The same number of posts, six feet apart, are required to run a fence over a hill as would be necessary to run the fence through the hill; for the simple reason that the posts are set upright, as illustrated, and not on a slant.

EVENING SALUTATION

When things first got to goin' wrong with me, I says: "O Lord, whatever comes, keep me from gettin' sour." Since then I've made it a practice to put all my worries down in the bottom of my heart, then set on the lid an' smile.

—Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.

THE SINISTER FACE—AND A GUN

Without in any way attempting to pass on the suppositions in relation to the killing of Earle Remington, in Los Angeles, those suppositions do emphasize the fact that when men of standing in a community begin a relationship with bootlegging they take chances that are greater than the mere possibility of being arrested in violation of the liquor laws.

To begin with, the bootlegger is a law-breaker. Law-breaking is his business and his life. He lives by strategy and by cold-blooded defiance. In cases where he has difficulty with his patrons, he has no courts to fall back on for the enforcement of his rights, or what he chooses to call his rights.

The commonest difficulty that arises is refusal on the part of the buyer to pay the bootlegger for what he gets. He bargains for bonded stuff, and gets whatever vile stuff the bootlegger may choose to give him.

Right or wrong in his judgment as to the quality of the booze, the bootlegger must reply upon his own ingenuity and recklessness to collect his bill. He will resort to blackmail or to the point of a pistol; he is determined to get his money.

And when a man who has been reared under ordinary business standards enters a booze ring for smuggling and distribution of liquor further complications arise. Whatever honor there may be among thieves, seems to have an offshot among other bands of lawbreakers. The double-cross calls for punishment; the division of profits is likely to bring forth wicked guns. Here is a code the strength of which may not be understood by the man whose paths in life hitherto have been in paths of decency and abidance of law.

So, doing business with the bootlegger, aside from its aspect of bad citizenship, has an element of personal danger that seems to be showing up as an increasing factor.

The ordinary man who deals with the bootlegger will find his troubles increasing as the enforcement of law grows in strength, as it inevitably will, for the very life of our republic lies in enforcement of law. The bootlegger's wit and daring will increase. His dealings will increase in ruthlessness. Anyone who does business with him will be at his mercy, and the number of supposedly high class citizens who are found dead by an assassin's hand will increase.

Thus, today we see the bootlegger's threats as well as the bootlegger's booze as a menace to his patrons, and he who would buy booze unlawfully not only knows that the liquor may be poisonous but he knows that back of the transaction is the sinister face of a crook—and a gun.

WOULD END GUN-TOTING

It is evident that something must be done to check the evil of gun-toting. While a vicious person intent on murder might accomplish his purpose just as effectively without a gun, the fact remains that a shockingly large number of unplanned killings result from the easy purchase and unrestricted carrying of guns. Even where there are local ordinances against carrying concealed weapons, the fact that there is no uniform national law on the subject enables anyone who wishes to purchase guns by mail or in neighboring communities.

There are many suggestions from many sources. One investigator would have every person carrying a weapon put up a bond of suitable amount to protect the public. The Cleveland Association of Criminal Justice is considering recommendations for changes in the statutes which would make all cases of illegal carrying of concealed weapons felonies, and eliminate the phrase "lawful business" from the statute, because that involves the element of intent which is so difficult to prove in trying a criminal. The association would lengthen the term of imprisonment for this offense, and would have a responsible commission examine applicants for a license to carry a weapon.

A member of the New York city magistrate court would go farther still. He says:

"I think the ideal thing would be to have revolvers manufactured only by the government, or for the government, under governmental supervision. Permits should be issued only to peace officers and the military, with a limited issuance, after rigid investigation, to persons who might stand in urgent need, such as bank messengers.

"It might be well to have every revolver the property of the government and only loaned to the licensee-holder on issuance of the permit, after payment of a suitable fee or deposit. In this way every holder would have to account for his revolver at the end of each license period, or year, and it would be known where every one was."

When these various suggestions can be boiled down to a few simple but effective regulations, enforceable and enforced, the murder habit in this country will be considerably less prevalent.

"COOLING OFF" PERIOD

Those who object to the proposed amendment requiring President and Congress to assume their duties in January following their election do so on the ground that the present interval of four months for the President and 13 months for Congress is valuable as a "cooling off" period. They argue that it is better to wait awhile instead of giving immediate effect to the will of the voters as expressed in the election, because the voters may have been excited when they cast their ballots.

This is surely a strange argument to apply to a representative government in a free country ruled by public opinion. It is also a strange argument to make to a business people.

Suppose the stockholders of a corporation, at their annual meeting, voted for certain officers, pledged to do certain things, in an existing emergency, and then it was solemnly proposed that everybody should stand pat for another year, in order to cool off. Something would probably bust in that corporation. Representative government delayed is representative government denied, as surely as justice delayed is justice denied.

There is always an "emergency" in public affairs.

At least, the public always thinks so; and the public is the boss, with a right to have its own way.

Moreover, prompt action in giving effect to an election is the only businesslike thing, as well as the only thing. In any public or private affairs, the way to get ahead is to take advantage of periods when interest is focussed on this or that matter, and act while the dynamic interest lasts. Otherwise governments are like mediocre people who hesitate and reconsider and lose their enthusiasm for action, and so never get anywhere.

Reorganize Departments
Long Beach Press.

Reorganization of governmental departments at Washington is being considered concretely, upon invitation of President Harding. A joint committee of Congress has in hand formulation of plans for simplifying governmental functioning and making the work more effective. Some of the changes suggested are somewhat sweeping, not to say startling. For instance, proposed consolidation of the War and Navy departments into a Department of National Defense, which would have to do not only with the army and navy, but national resources in general. It also is proposed to establish a Department of Education and Welfare, which would include four principal subdivisions: Education, health, social service and veterans' relief. The reorganization plan would provide also for shifting of several bureaus and minor consolidations, in the interests of efficiency and economy.

Another of the important proposed changes would alter the name of the Postoffice Department to the Department of Communications, and this would contemplate development and extension of telephone and telegraph communications, including wireless, for the public benefit.

Mr. Harding pledged this reorganization in his campaign for election. He has had experts at work for a long time to devise plans and to make recommendations as to changes. There seemingly is merit in these proposals. Wherever there is duplication of effort by departments and bureaus, reforms should be made. Whatever can be done to increase efficiency, promote simplicity and effect economies in government, should be done for the public benefit.

Our National Parks
San Francisco Chronicle.

The appropriations for the upkeep of the national parks for the next fiscal year work out at one and one-tenth cents for each resident of the country—something like five cents per family a year. Of course there are many families who never see a national park, but none of them can know how many of their children will see them. And whether they ever see them or not they will profit by them, for they bring money into the country, which gets itself distributed. And this is especially true of California, which has so much and so attractive park area.

In any case, as a sanitary measure they richly pay their way. The denser the population the greater the necessity to maintain or restore the physical effectiveness of the human body by appropriate exercise and recreation away from the daily moil and bustle. And no other form of such relief compares in efficiency with a period of tramping and camping where nature is wildest and at its best.

Peter Kyne and the Movies
Stockton Record.

When authors and film makers fall out the rest of us find out what's wrong with the movies. Captain Peter B. Kyne of "Cappy Ricks" fame in parting from the industry is as frank about its alleged shortcomings as a disillusioned, temperamental prima donna getting a divorce from her husband. Nothing the Valentino has said is a patch on the torrent poured out by Kyne on what he calls the "dumb bells" who build most of the pictures purely as a get-rich quick business and in a "can-can."

Without repeating all the ripples, cascades and waterfalls of picturesque language that go to make up the torrent unleashed by Kyne, it may be said that he is right in believing that the public want better movies with some ideas in them. They are tired of being merely nerve shocked. As Kyne says the people want clean, honest films, "pictures that appeal to the heart, with a laugh here and there and a vagrant tear." They don't want shoddy. The time has gone by when sensational emptiness will satisfy an audience. They have been "fed up" on that and to keep up not only with the natural caprice of appetite but with healthy growth of taste, pictures must progress in substance and in art. It is not sufficient that they be merely decent. The people registered a demand for that characteristic and are getting it more than formerly. Moving pictures have provided a form of entertainment that is very popular and we believe the future of the industry will be much greater than anything in its past. It has given the world much that is beautiful. But it cannot remain largely a mechanical business. Though its camera work is undeniably wonderful, it must have ideas and ideals to keep it growing.

Reapportionment Bills
Redlands Facts.

Senator Frank Boggs of Stockton is taking much interest in the question of reapportionment of the state into new Assembly and Senatorial districts, consequent upon the advanced showing of population in the 1920 census. Senator Boggs was interested in the same subject two years ago and his measures have always been known for their strong common-sense way of looking at what is admittedly a difficult problem.

Of course, the outstanding difficulty in any reapportionment plan is to find a basis upon which the country and cities can unite, also the north and the south, for there are natural antagonisms, and these are harped upon and aggravated by interested parties until they seem almost unsurmountable at times. Senator Boggs has met these problems in the spirit of compromise, with the idea always of preserving the majority representation of the rural districts—a principle which the best minds of the country consider of paramount importance.

Senator Boggs would give San Francisco six senators and twelve assemblymen; Los Angeles nine senators and twenty-four assemblymen.

This is much more generous to the urban districts than is true in most states, which have had to meet this same problem and solve it in fairness to the productive interests of the several states, as well as to the population.

It is of interest to note that San Bernardino is set aside as a single senatorial district, not tied in with Inyo as at present and that Inyo goes with Mono into a district with Kern—a not unnatural place for it. Riverside and Imperial form one district and Orange county another. At present all three are together. The great growth of Orange county, however, entitles her to separate representation. San Bernardino continues with two Assembly districts as at present.

There Seems to Be No Hero

Points In Progress

X-RAY

In Germany, scientists turn out to the funeral of Prof. William Conrad Rontgen, discoverer of the uncanny magic popularly known as the X-ray.

You know all about the X-ray, what it does, how it makes the flesh transparent and shows bones and such things as needles buried in the body. One hundred years ago they would have confined, in a lunatic asylum, any man who claimed he had an apparatus for seeing through the human body. We've progressed.

The X-ray is nearest to the supernatural, of anything ever discovered by man. But it is only an inkling of greater uncanny inventions that lie ahead. Scientists are our real leaders. A few hundred of them, living and dead, regulate most of our actions.

ENGINEERS

Railroad engineers, builders of vast industrial empires, announce that the railroad line which eventually will enable people to go by train from New York to Buenos Aires is 65 per cent completed. That's a trip of 10,116 miles, and you can take a train over 6500 miles of it now.

Before this road is completed, the world may be selling its railroads to the junkman and handling its passengers, express and freight by airship. That's an ultimate certainty. It can't come overnight.

FLYING

Sadi Lecointe, French aviator, breaks the world's speed record. He flies 235 miles an hour. That is almost four miles a minute. Within our generation fliers probably will make 1000 miles an hour. Or more.

Turning to more practical things, Uncle Sam's air mail now covers a route of 2680 miles. The round trip is made daily except Sundays and holidays.

The airplane is being developed faster than any invention in history. How long until it will be safer to fly than drive a car? Ten years may be a conservative guess.

FREAK

An auto that will travel on four legs instead of wheels! James William Bryan claims he has invented it. His description says the legs operate somewhat like human legs, going ahead without raising or lowering the body of the car. The speed? Bryan promises 81 miles an hour.

If there is anything more interesting in the news, we failed to see it. Recalling the derision that rose when the invention of the first wheeled "horseless carriage" was announced, we play safe and leave the commenting to you. Since a horse can travel on four legs, why not a machine?

INDIGNATION

Not long ago an advertisement appeared in a London newspaper calling for a healthy young man to accompany a big game hunter on an expedition into the wilds of Africa. The ad, which set forth in detail all the requisites and told of the risks such a trip entailed, caught the attention of a young Londoner and deeply impressed him with the dangers with which an explorer's life is beset. He finally rose from his bed at a late hour and sought out the address of the African hunter. His knock was answered by a tall, powerful man, who replied that he was the big game hunter in question. Choking with indignation, the young man blurted out, "I just come to say, I for one want no game!"—The Argonaut.

AS IT SOUNDED

A man in a hurry was trying his best to get somebody on a party line. However, the service was pre-empted, apparently permanently, by two girls who were gabbling about their new frocks and frills and furs.

At length the man made an impatient exclamation, and one of the girls stopped her sartorial monologue long enough to say: "What line do you think you are on, anyway?"

"From the stuff I've overheard," he answered, "it must be the clothes-line."

Note Book

By Lee Pope

This afternoon Mrs. Hews came to see ma and ma told her about all the different ways she tried to make pop stop smoking. Mrs. Hews saying, O my deer, you must try soap powder.

I've tried cawfee powder and I mite as well of jest put in empty air for all the good it did, ma sed, and Mrs. Hews sed, O my deer, you cant mention cawfee powder in the same broth with soap powder, I've got some home and I'll send you eround a little this very afternoon.

Wich she did in an envelope, and we had soap for suppr and pop's was on the table already wen he came down, on account of ma havin put it there and quick sprinkled some powder in it out of the envelope, and pop started to drink it, saying, This is wat I call good vegetable soap, gewally I havent a good word to say for vegetable soap but this seems to have a special taist. In fact I reely bieve I could manage another he sleep with plezure and profit, he sed.

I'll get it for you myself, ma sed. Wich she went out in the kitchen an did and pop drank it all the way up and ma sed, That's the first time I ever say you take 2 plates of soap, Im surprized, but it never rains but it pears, so perhaps you'd like another plate jest to make it well.

Well, if a things worth doing its worth doing well, pop sed, Meenin he would, and ma went and got him another plate, wich I could see some of the soap powder floatin on top, and pop drank it, sayin, Well, I gess thats about enuff suppr for me tonite.

Wy Willum, I've got a bewtiffil stake and elegant French fried potatoes, ma sed, and pop sed, Not as far as Im concerned, Im jest going to have a cup of cawfee and a nice long cigar, in fact, after 3 substantial wallops of soap like that I think Ill have 2 cups of cawfee and 2 long cigars, that soap jest made me feel like a good smook, somehow.

O for goodniss sakes, ma sed. And her and me and my sister Gladdis ate the stake and potatoes wile pop smooked a cigar with one of the most enjoyabul expressions he ever had.

IN THE LONG AGO

From the Register Files

FEBRUARY 26, 1909

The speed limits were laid out by the city trustees today. Ten miles is the limit on Fourth from Grand avenue to Bristol, on Main from Fairview to Washington. On the rest of the city is a district with fifteen miles an hour as the limit of speed.

Cigar men failed to convince the city trustees that an ordinance prohibiting the shaking of dice for cigars should not pass.

In order to reduce the amount of street sprinkling, which takes nearly all of the street department's money, the city trustees will try to get property owners to gravel and oil streets.

This is a busy month for builders, as building permits total more than $30,000 for the month.

Willie Smith and the Bourgeoisie

Plainfield (N. J.) Courier-News

(J. S. Smart, of the Smart & Final Company, wholesale grocers, sends the Register a clipping of the following editorial which appeared recently in the Plainfield (N. J.) Courier-News.)

A letter signed Willie Smith and thereby establishing a competence for old age.

There is more happiness in the humble homes of the working people than in the mansions of the wealthy. Wealth alone does not bogot happiness. Too frequently does it bring unhappiness, worry and discontent.

Do not envy the rich man. What he has belongs to him. He may have worked hard for it. It may have been left to him by hard-working parents, but in any event covetousness is not conducive to either happiness or success.

The thing to do is to pay attention to one's own affairs, advance materially and mentally, as best one can. Be glad of any success that comes to a fellow man, and strive for the success one wishes to attain.

Always be honest, upright and just. Make the world a better place, and remember that those who talk about the bourgeoisie, the capitalists and the bondholders, are assailing every honest man who has tried to advance himself; to rise above the condition in which he was born; who exemplify American opportunity as it exists now, and has existed in the past, but which is greater now than ever before. Agitation is born of idleness. Busy people seldom have time for it. Pay attention to your studies, Willie, and remember that it is impossible to attain full success or happiness except by hard work.

This doesn't mean drudgery or slavery. It means doing as well as possible, whatever task one is called upon to perform, practice industry and thrift and success will be yours.

The bourgeoisie never think of organizing for their own protection. That is why every blather-skite with a new political or economic theory to exploit makes an attack upon them. The middle class is the class of society that makes up what may well be called the spinal column of the nation. Break this spinal column and chaos follows. That is why anarchists, socialists and others who know about everything but work, centre their attacks upon them. It is a class to which all can attain membership who try. It is the most numerous class in our society or the society of other nations. It is a class that is easily designated as the prey of agitators, political scavengers or demagogues.

If anyone talks to you about the bourgeoisie, Willie, find out what he is doing, whether or not he is working for a living or merely getting one by stirring up an agitation among those who are willing to listen to him and do listen to him because they do not know better.

Those who talk about the bourgeoisie are the ones who talk about the capitalist class, international bankers, bloated bondholders, and who like to appear as the champions of those whom they style as the down-trodden and oppressed labor class.

We are glad that Willie Smith sent his letter, and we are glad to tell Willie that this is a land of equal opportunity; that success is just ahead for all who strive by honest means to attain it.

Then there is a difference of opinion as to what constitutes success. This does not lie alone in the acquisition of great wealth which sometimes worries men and gives them indigestion, preventing them from enjoying a mess of corned beef and cabbage, but rather does success lie in improving oneself as much as possible by striving to excel in whatever work one may be engaged; by rendering an honest day's work for an honest wage; by saving a part of what is earned.
